POLITICAL.

Gen. Grant's Self-Abnegation and Patience Under Calumny.

A Prominent Democrat Declares for the Republican Ticket.

How One of Gen. Grant's Defamers was Squelched in Indiana.

One of the Reasons Why Greeley Wants Reconciliation.

Ex-Gov. Newell, of New-Jersey, Places Himself Square on the Record.

Not a Self-Seeker.

The Toledo (Ohio) Commercial aptly says that one thing in regard to Gen. Grant's speaking should not be forgotten—that he has never been known to speak in his own behalf, not even in self-defense. The Commercial continues: "He never asked for place, power or emolument for himself. From the time, in April, 1861, when Gov. Yates called him to Springfield to act as Adjutant-General in organizing the Illinois volunteers, to this 28th day of September, 1872, his voice has never been heard in application for any favor personal to himself. And so, in his civil Administration. With his motives and his acts assailed and misrepresented, by political enemies and professed political friends, he has quietly pursued the even tenor of his way, without stopping for retort, or even to notice, the assaults of his foes. But amid all this great wrong—so unjust and so aggravating—who has heard Ulysses S. Grant complain? The most that is known to have fallen his lips, was his response to the long, bitter and malicious assault of Charles Sumner, to wit: 'I am willing to put my acts against Mr. Sumner's words.' That was all. No recrimination—no personal bitterness—not even an attempt to show wherein his 'acts' refuted his enemy's 'words.'"

An Alleghany County Democrat Comes Out.

W. F. Bement, Esq., of Cuba, Alleghany County, a prominent lawyer, and heretofore a pronounced Democrat, has declared for Grant and Wilson and the Republican State ticket. In a letter published in the Cuba Patriot he says: "Horace Greeley, presented by the so-called Liberal Republicans as one of the candidates, is a man of undoubted honor and integrity, standing prominent in his calling as a journalist, and to whom the world is greatly indebted for much valuable instruction, yet he still does adhere to his theory of the right of States to secede from the Union as uttered by him in 1860, notwithstanding that by the war that question was settled beyond a hope of controversy. This indicates sufficient that he will cling to a theory though it prove a detriment to the country. An adherence to this idea is reagitation. In association with it the mind reverts to the days from Calhoun to the bombardment of Sumter. The other candidate, U. S. Grant, is presented by the Republican Party for the second time. Although in 1868 I opposed his election and exerted all my strength, feeble though it was, to defeat him, and place Horatio Seymour in his stead, yet now, under the circumstances, I withdraw all objections. Grant has been tried as a statesman, and in my mind not found wanting. 'Let us have peace.'"

Julian Squelched.

William Baxter, a talented Quaker of Wayne County, Ind., addressed a Republican meeting in Richmond, that State, largely composed of people of his faith, one night last week, devoting himself particularly to an exposure of George W. Julian's slanders on the President and others. He said Julian claimed in a speech at Newport that he could have been nominated for Congressman at large for the present campaign, if he had desired it, and to prove the falseness of this, the speaker read a letter from Julian bidding for that very nomination. He also read a private letter written him by Julian, giving reasons why he (Baxter) should be nominated for the Legislature as a temperance candidate, and urging his acceptance. He next read a letter from Harmon B. Payne to Julian, asking if he had favored and urged Baxter's nomination, and then read a short letter signed George W. Julian, totally and emphatically denying his connection with Baxter's nomination, and pronouncing the rumor an entire falsehood.

A Very Hard Case, Surely.

In one of his recent speeches in Pennsylvania, Mr. Greeley told a very affecting story illustrating the need of reconciliation with the South. "I had," said he, "a friend who went down to South Carolina, spent some time there, and came back. He is a very zealous Republican, and he said he had seen many things he did not like. He said: I saw a man there, who, when secession began, was living in Paris on an allowance from his father at $25,000 a year. He is now a clerk to a negro Assessor in Charleston at $2 per day, and mighty glad to get it. Now such things do take place, and I do think that the people have suffered a great deal. I think it is time that a generous hand was outstretched to aid them." This pathetic tale has excited the Springfield (Mass.) Union, and it says: "This is perfectly dreadful, all must admit. If it does not show the need of reconciliation, what does it show? To add to the aggravating circumstances of the poor clerk, the negro he now works for was perhaps one of the insolent slaves on whom the father was wont to rely for the production of his princely income that enabled him to allow his son $25,000 a year to spend in riotous living in Paris. The case is a peculiarly hard one. If this fallen representative of a proud family only lived at the North it would be easy for Mr. Greeley to say to him sweetly, 'Go West, young man, go West.' As it is, the only remedy for his case is reconciliation. Therefore, let us be reconciled."

Gov. Newell to Take the Stump.

The Greeleyites have been whispering that Ex-Gov. Newell, of New-Jersey, is a Greeley man. It is wonderful that they did not, after their manner, publish it to the ends of the earth, false as the accusation is. The real position of the Governor is shown by the following patriotic letter from him, published by the Trenton Gazette, and addressed to Hon. S. A. Dobbins, the Republican candidate for Congress in the Second District of New-Jersey:

ALLENTOWN, N. J., 28th September, 1872.

To Hon. Samuel A. Dobbins:

DEAR SIR: If my services can avail you in the contest in which you are enlisted as a candidate for Congress, I beg you to indicate in what manner they shall be applied. I desire earnestly the perpetuity of Republican principles, the continued ascendancy of the Republican Party, and the election of all its candidates everywhere—for the good soldier cheers and follows, fights for, and if needs be falls by the flag, while he neither knows nor cares who bears the staff—yet I would justly be deemed an ingrate did I not entertain and make manifest an especial interest in all that pertains to the representation of the Second Congressional District—a district to which, at least as recently constituted, including the good County of Monmouth, I am indebted for all the honors of my earlier and later political life—honors which I appreciate and for which I am profoundly grateful. My solicitude is enhanced by the consideration that in your election the people cannot fail to find a Representative eminently adapted to all their interests and requirements. I am happy in the opportunity to reciprocate the obligations under which your support, always rendered most manfully and efficiently, have placed me. I am, very truly, your friend,

WM. A. NEWELL.

A Curious Kentucky Boy's Question.

The Louisville Commercial says that a gentleman of that city, who is a regular subscriber to Harper's Weekly, and has a son about six years old, who is well acquainted with Mr. Greeley's personal appearance as depicted by Nast, took the little fellow to the Exposition Saturday night week to see the Philosopher. He stationed himself near the entrance, and when the bustle indicated that Mr. Greeley was coming he cautioned his son to look out for the old man. As soon as he got in the door the boy recognized him, and called out, "There he is, papa," and watched him intently till he passed by, when he said: "He is just like his picture, but what has he done with the little card he wears on his coat-tail?"

Conventions This Week.

Conventions have been called to be held during the present week as follows:

Wednesday, Oct. 2—Ohio Straight-out Democratic State Convention, in Columbus.

Thursday, Oct. 3—New-York Straight-out Democratic State Convention, in Albany.

Thursday—Rhode Island Republican State Convention, in Providence.

Friday, Oct. 4—Missouri Straight-out Democratic State Convention, in Jefferson City.

Still True.

The Greeleyites of the Sixteenth Congressional District of this State have been hoping that there would be dissension among the Republicans through the disappointment of the friends of Mr. Walter B. Wood. That gentleman has, however, plunged them into the lowest depths of despair by writing a patriotic and manly letter, worthy of him as a citizen and a member of the Republican Party, in which he says: "Mr. Smart having been regularly nominated deserves the support of all Republicans. I shall give him mine, and counsel my friends to do the same. This seems to me to be the true course to pursue to promote the harmony of the Republican Party in the district, and to insure the largest vote for the State and Electoral tickets, which all good Republicans ought to seek."

Grant Banner Raising in the Twentieth Ward.

A very enthusiastic Republican rally and banner raising occurred last evening under the auspices of the Young Men's Republican Association and the German Republican Association of the Eleventh Assembly District. The banner, which was the first raised in the City by the young men, was hung across Eighth-avenue, in front of No. 346, the head-quarters of the two associations, and for size and beauty is not excelled by any on the avenue. The platform for the speakers was erected at the corner of West Twenty-eighth-street, and at 8 o'clock the meeting was organized by the choice of Col. Knox McAfee as chairman. Col. McAfee made a brief speech on the issues of the campaign, and then introduced Hon. E. Delafield Smith. While the latter was speaking a few disorderly persons several times interrupted him by shouting for Greeley, but their cheers were more than overpowered by others for Grant. Mr. Smith made some pointed remarks with regard to the interruption, which had the effect of silencing the opposition without creating a disturbance. Gen. Joseph Jackson followed, and made some decisive hits, which were seconded by the remarks of Col. Peebles, the next speaker, who good-humoredly took all the interruptions and turned them against his opponents. Dr. Hoeber, the President of the German Association, then addressed the meeting, and was followed by Hugh Coleman. The assembly, in which were several ladies, was very large from the commencement, but during the evening was greatly increased by the arrival of the Ninth District Young Men's Republican Association, who marched up Eighth-avenue with music, torches, fireworks and banner flying. The greetings given the members of this Association by the assembled crowd were very enthusiastic, and loud cheers were exchanged.

Brooklyn Politics.

A grand rally of Republicans of the Fourth Ward was held last night at Commonwealth Hall, over the Brooklyn Post-office, under the auspices of the Fourth Ward Grant and Wilson Campaign Club. Mr. S. C. Carll, President of the Club, occupied the chair. A band of music was present, adding interest to the occasion. A number of ladies occupied seats near the speakers' stand. Speeches were made by Col. T. B. Thorpe and Gen. F. F. Millen. Gen. Millen's speech was very interesting, and was listened to by the large audience with much attention.

The Sixth Ward Republican Association held a large and enthusiastic meeting last night at Pattimer Hall. The President of the Association, Geo. W. Clark, Esq., introduced Hon. J. T. Norton, who congratulated them on their strength, and predicted a victory for the Republican ticket in the ward. About seventy men stepped forward, and had their names enrolled.

At a meeting of the Twentieth Ward Republican Association, held at "The Chapel," Cumberland-street, last night, addresses were delivered by E. P. Higgins and Benjamin E. Hale, after which upward of fifty new members were added to the roll.

The Sixth Ward Working Men's Association met last night at their hall, in Columbia-street, and stirring speeches were delivered by J. Callanan and others, warning them not to vote the Ring ticket or to place knaves and robbers in power.

Betting on the Pennsylvania Election.

At Johnson's pool-rooms, corner Twenty-eighth-street and Broadway, last night, pools were sold on the Pennsylvania election, and the betting was largely in favor of Hartranft at the odds of about five to three. There was not much business done, however, as the Buckalew party were rather meek, and were chary of their bids. Hartranft was taken as first choice, and it required a great deal of persuasion on the part of the pool-seller to get a fair amount of money against the favorite. There were no pools sold on the result of the election in this State, but odds of five to four were offered that Gen. Dix would beat Kernan.

A Working Men's Political Convention.

A Working men's Central Union County Convention, the proceedings of which were of an exceedingly lively character, assembled last night at Germania Assembly Rooms and elected James M. Heatherton, of the Fifteenth Ward, President, Wm Irving and John McCarley Secretaries. Resolutions were adopted urging reform. The following nominations were made: For Mayor, James O'Brien; for Judge of the Supreme Court, John E. Burrell; for Judge of the Superior Court, Denis Quinn; for District-Attorney, Charles S. Spencer; for City Judge, Gunning S. Bedford.

The President and the Colored People.

A committee of the Colored Men's Convention of New-England, which met in Faneuil Hall, Boston, on the 5th inst., called on the President yesterday to present a letter from their Convention. The Committee consisted of Lewis Hayden, Geo. L. Raffin and Chas. E. Pindall. The letter was delivered by Mr. Raffin, who made a few remarks. The President, in reply, expressed his gratification that his efforts to secure protection to life and property to all classes throughout the country had been so fully appreciated, and thanked the Committee for the kind manner in which they had alluded to his action in regard to their race.

How the Quakers Will Vote.

A telegram from Richmond, Ind., reports that one of the most widely-known and influential Friends in that city attending the regular meeting of the Orthodox Society of Quakers, said that he did not know of a single Friend who will vote for Greeley. Another member of the same organization said that from actual report it was his firm belief that not more than twenty-five Quakers in the United States would support Greeley.

August Belmont Declines the Nomination for Mayor.

The following letter was written by August Belmont, in reply to an inquiry from the Young Men's Liberal Republican Association, as to whether he would accept the nomination for Mayor:

BYTHESEA, N. Y., Sept. 28, 1872.

DEAR SIR: Your favor informing me of the action of your club by recommending me for Mayor of New-York, has been duly received. In reply to your inquiry, whether I would accept such a nomination if offered to me by my fellow-citizens, I am compelled to state that my contemplated absence from the City for the coming year would render it necessary for me to decline that honor.

Pray convey to the members of the Young Men's Liberal Republican Association my grateful acknowledgments for their flattering confidence. Yours, very respectfully,

AUGUST BELMONT.

MARTIN HOFFMAN, Esq., President.

Another Candidate for Mayor—The National Reform Democracy.

A meeting of the National Reform Democracy of the County of New-York was held, last night, at Masonic Hall, Thirteenth-street, near Fourth-avenue. Jacob Cohen made an address in favor of the nomination of Mr. John McCool as a suitable person for Mayor of New-York. A vote taken upon the subject resulted in the unanimous choice of Mr. McCool as the candidate of the National Reform Democracy. Speeches were then made by Messrs. C. C. Bristol, Dr. Griffiths, Aaron G. Josephio and Henry American, the latter speaking in the German language. They expressed sentiments in favor of the election of Greeley and Brown for the Presidency, and in opposition to the political control of Tammany Hall in this County. Mr. Cohen, the Chairman, while supporting Kernan for Governor, is opposed to the election of Chauncey Depew for Lieutenant-Governor. The meeting was large and enthusiastic.

General Notes.

Adin Thayer, of Hoosac, has been nominated by the Democrats and soreheads for Congress in the Sixteenth District of this State.

A mass-meeting and torch-light procession took place at Orange, N. J., on Saturday last. A Grant and Wilson banner was raised with great enthusiasm.

The Republicans of the Third Congressional District of Massachusetts, yesterday nominated Hon. William Whiting for Congress and Alvon Simonds for Presidential Elector.

A Grant and Wilson Club has been formed at Pleasantville, N. Y., near Chappaqua. A large number of members have been enrolled. There are but few Greeley men in the district.

The First Assembly District Republican Convention for Orange County, New-York, yesterday nominated Augustus Denniston for the Assembly and Geo. K. Smith for School Commissioner.

Collector Arthur stated yesterday to a TIMES reporter that there is no truth in the assertion made by a morning journal that officials have been removed from the Custom-house for non-payment of political assessments.

A Grant and Wilson Campaign Club has been organized in Southfield, Staten Island, with Wesner H. Townsend as President and C. G. Simmons as Secretary. The Club held a meeting on Tuesday evening last, and will hold another to-morrow evening, when Mr. Crow will make an address.

The Democratic electors of the several towns comprising the Second Assembly District of Westchester County, will hold a convention at the Central House, White Plains, to elect eight delegates to the Congressional Convention to be held at Haverstraw, Rockland County, on Wednesday; also to nominate a candidate for member of Assembly to represent the district in the Legislature. The Liberal Republicans of the Second Assembly District will also hold a convention the same time and place for the same object.

Local Notes.

The Ninth Ward Loyal Union Club, last evening, at No. 79 Bank-street, was addressed by Hon. Charles Abel of Nyack and M. J. Dolkpin of Syracuse.

On Friday evening next a banner will be raised by the Seventeenth Assembly District Republican Club in favor of Mr. E. C. Wilson for the Assembly.

The Liberal Republican State Committee have engaged the services of Anna Dickinson, and several other female orators, to make speeches for Greeley and Brown.

James O'Brien was indorsed for Mayor, and Thomas Foley for Assistant Alderman, by the Thomas Foley Association of the First Assembly District last night, at No. 18 West-street.

The Fourth Ward James O'Brien Association met last night, George Elliott in the chair, and enrolled several new members. Resolutions were passed in favor of the election of Mr. O'Brien to the Mayoralty.

The Independent Greeley Club, of the Fourth Assembly District, met last evening at No. 115 East Broadway, Fenton F. Mullins in the chair. Addresses were made by Denis A. Griffin, the Chairman, and others.

An open-air demonstration, with a display of fire-works and Chinese lanterns, was held last night to celebrate an O'Brien banner-raising in the Nineteenth Ward. Mr. Charles Brooks, Mr. Kiernan, Mr. Murphy, and others, addressed the meeting.

The Monmouth County (N. J.) Democratic Convention, representing the First District, yesterday nominated Hon. William H. Hendrickson for State Senator; A. R. Throgmorton for Surrogate, and George W. Patterson for Assembly.

The Fifth Assembly District Independent Democratic Grant and Wilson Club held a rousing meeting last evening at the corner of Prince and Sullivan streets. Stirring addresses were delivered by three Democratic speakers—Messrs. Kimble, Dwyer and Hagan, who were very earnest in support of Grant and Wilson for President, and Hon. James O'Brien for Mayor.

The Soldiers' and Sailors' Grant and Wilson Club of the Fourth Assembly District met last evening, at No. 115 East Broadway, John E. Dowley in the chair. Resolutions were passed favoring the nomination of Hanse Powel for Alderman, and Chas. E. Abbott for Assistant Alderman, and a committee of three appointed to inform these gentlemen of the action taken by the Club.

The Democrats of Williamsburg attempted a mass-meeting, last evening, at the junction of Broadway and Fourth-street. By dint of a liberal display of paper lanterns, fire-works and brass bands they attracted a large crowd of people, who, however, contented themselves by standing at the street corners enjoying the rockets and Roman candles, in preference to going near the stand, where a few orators were endeavoring to make themselves heard amid the noise and confusion going on around them.

An enthusiastic meeting of the Ninth Assembly District Young Men's Republican Association was held last night in the Bleecker Building, Mr. R. M. Collard in the chair. The large hall was filled to its utmost capacity, and an excellent brass band enlivened the proceedings by its performance. Hon. Robert Sewell delivered an address on the merits of the candidates for Presidential honors, and concluded, amid loud applause, by declaring that next November would see another great victory for the Republican Party and its candidates. The association then marched in a body to attend a banner-raising in the Eleventh Assembly District.

THE WEATHER.

Synopsis and Probabilities.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1—1 A. M.—The low barometer, which on Sunday night was north of the lower lakes, has continued moving northeastwardly, and the winds over lakes Ontario, Erie and Huron diminished to light and fresh westerly to northerly. Cloudy weather continues over New-England, partly cloudy weather over the Middle States and eastern portion of North Carolina. Areas of rain have prevailed over the lower lake region, and along the South Atlantic coast. The highest barometer is central over Tennessee. The pressure has diminished over the Northwest, where easterly to southerly winds are now prevailing.

PROBABILITIES.

For New-England and the Middle States westerly to northerly winds and generally clear weather, the winds gradually backing to southerly over the lower lake region; for the South Atlantic States northerly and northwesterly winds and clear weather; for the Gulf States east of the Mississippi, northerly winds veering to easterly, and clear weather; from Tennessee to Lake Erie and the Upper lakes, clear weather and winds gradually backing to southerly and easterly; for the northwest, diminishing pressure and easterly to southerly winds.

City Meteorological Report.

The following observations show the temperature, &c., yesterday as recorded by Schultz & Warker at the Central Park Mineral Springs:

Temperature	7 A. M.	12 M.	3 P. M.	6 P. M.
Degrees Fahrenheit	62	72	70	65
Stand of bar. in inch	29.81	29.85	..	29.85

The following record will show the changes in the temperature yesterday, with the average for the same, as indicated by the thermometer at Dickinson's Drug-store, No. 8 Park-row: 3 A. M., 64°; 6 A. M., 62°; 9 A. M., 68°; 12 M., 71°; 3 P. M., 69°; 6 P. M., 66°; 9 P. M., 63½°; 12 M., 62°. Average temperature yesterday, 65¾°.

Effects of the Storm on Lake Erie.

BUFFALO, Sept. 30.—The violent storm that prevailed here for twenty-four hours has abated. With the exception of the loss of sails and spars by a few vessels that have returned to port, no marine disaster has occurred in this vicinity. About 200 feet of the new breakwater in front of the harbor was carried away.

DETROIT, Mich., Sept. 30.—The following disasters are reported on Lake Erie: Bark Butcher Boy, sunk, probably a total loss; schooners Oades and Fayette Brown, ashore, badly damaged; Annie Voght, collided with Butcher Boy and badly damaged, and brought to dry dock today; schooners Van Valkenburg, Phalarope, Kenosha, Yankee Blade, Fenton and Sweepstakes ashore, and more or less damaged; brig Montezuma, ashore and gone to pieces, the Captain's wife is reported drowned. The lumber barges Treat, Harvest Belle and Detroit are beached. Many scows and small vessels were sunk or driven ashore.

The Storm Predicted by the Signal Service.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—The great storm that swept over the lakes on the 28th and 29th of September afforded another proof of the utility of the Signal bureau. Its approach was announced in the morning "probabilities" of the 28th, and on the afternoon of that day the danger became so apparent that cautionary signals were ordered at Buffalo, Chicago, Cleveland, Detroit, Grand Haven, Milwaukee, Toledo, Oswego and Rochester, hours before the storm reached either of these places.

BARON VON STEUBEN.

Unveiling of the Monument Over the Patriot's Grave.

Immense Gathering of People at Remsen—The History of the Burial-Place and Von Steuben's Remarkable Instructions Regarding It—The Monument.

Special Dispatch to the New-York Times.

UTICA, N. Y., Sept. 30.—Shut in from the world by a rude stake-fence, overshadowed by lofty trees, around whose gnarled trunks creep innumerable tendrils of vines, stands a solid piece of rough limestone masonry, which has a foundation eight feet below the surface of the earth. It is fourteen feet square, of single blocks of stone, surmounted by other smooth blocks of finer material rising to a height of about nineteen feet. The summit is ten feet square. The single word Steuben, surrounded by a wreath, is carved on the western face of the structure. On the opposite side are a plain crown and shield, and around the top on a frieze are twelve stars—three on each face. The upper structure is composed of a solid block seven feet four inches square at the base, two high, tapering to four feet square, topped by tapering cap-stone about three feet high at its centre. The stone bearing the name "William Augustus Frederick, Baron Von Steuben," which marked the old grave, has been buried over the remains of this illustrious patriot immediately beneath the monument. Here lie the bones of the old German tactician who aided Gen. Washington in the reorganization of his almost demoralized forces.

Today the solemn dedication of this pile took place at Steuben, about three miles from Remsen, on the Black River Railroad, where, at his own special request, the old German "Continental" was buried in the woods, in a spot unknown to any but his heirs, who had strict injunctions not to disclose or disturb the locality on pain of disinheritance. But, as Hon. Horatio Seymour told in his speech, the construction of a road immediately over the sacred spot made it necessary to remove the hallowed relics to their present resting place. So the secret was out. Some time after, Col. Walker, the Baron's heir, left to the Welch Baptist Society, having a church near, fifty acres of land with the understanding that they should preserve in its native grandeur and wildness the five acres of forest in which Von Steuben's remains are now deposited. Not a twig is ever to be broken nor a leaf disturbed in this sacred grove, which must be, and is fenced in for all time to come.

Some years ago the German-Americans of New-York and Oneida County became impressed with the belief that the grave of the great man would be lost in future years, and unless some more substantial indicator of its whereabouts were erected, posterity might, in spite of economical progress, cut down the trees and finally obliterate every vestige of the spot. Therefore it was resolved to erect this monument of which the corner-stone was laid by Mr. Zynier, in June, 1870. Work was begun in the following Spring and completed last July at a cost of $2,000, which was raised by the Germans of New-York and Utica.

The final ceremonies were participated in today by nearly all the inhabitants of Remsen and the surrounding villages and large delegations from Utica and other cities. The Liederkrantz Society, of New-York, which had been specially invited, was conspicuous by its absence. At an early hour the excursionists from Utica left by special train for Remsen, where they arrived at 9 A. M. These were met at the depot by the people of Remsen, Trenton, Prospect, Steuben and the surrounding towns, who supplied about 200 vehicles of all descriptions to carry the party to the Steuben Monument. A grand procession was formed by Grand Marshal R. H. Wiggins, in front of Dawson's Hotel, with the old band and Utica Citizens' Corp on the right, followed by the orators and distinguished guests in the barouches. The line of the vehicles and pedestrians extended from Remsen over the hills, and was nearly two miles in length. The cannon and round-shot given by the General Government for the decoration of the monument were drawn in the procession.

The Citizen's Corps, of Utica, guarded the speaker's stand at the monument. Mayor Butterfield, of Utica, was the Chairman, and prayer was offered by Rev. Owen F. Perry. Then followed the presentation of the monument to the people of America by Carl Sixtus Kapf, of New-York, on behalf of the Steuben Monument Association. As Mr. Kapf concluded the ceremony of presentation the clouds cleared away for an instant, and a single shaft of sunshine fell on the monument. Ex-Gov. Seymour received the monument on behalf of the people, and addresses were made by Hon. Ellis H. Roberts in English, and Hon. W. Zarth in German. The benediction was pronounced by Rev. Dr. Brown, of Hamilton College.

During the ceremonies the people who thronged the grove, principally Welsh, listened with earnest attention throughout the orations. Only subdued applause was given, and the hundreds present were silent as vacancy. The most remarkable good order prevailed, and not even a village constable was present. This was one of the greatest festivals seen in this neighborhood for two years. The whole country-side was alive with people. Vehicles thronged the road in a steady stream, as far as the eye could reach filled with groups of gayly-dressed young ladies of Oneida County and their attendant swains. At 4 P. M., all set out for Trenton Grove, to continue the pleasures of the day by a soirée, with dancing. Sandwiches and lager were abundant, and dancing on the green sward to the music of a fine brass band was kept up until 6 P. M. Some visited the magnificent cascades at Trenton Falls.

But the end came at 6 o'clock, when the whistle summoned the stragglers to the train, which bore them back to Utica. Here a grand fête is going on at the rooms of the Maennerchor while I write, and the affair is a fitting climax to a day of unsurpassed enjoyment.

Award of Paving Contracts.

Commissioner Van Nort, of the Department of Public Works has made the following awards of contracts for Belgian pavement, the proposals for which were opened on Saturday last:

A Boy Stabbed by an Italian Woman.

A bar-tender in a Barclay-street saloon yesterday afternoon threw a half-rotten apple on the sidewalk. Catharina Marriana, an Italian chiffoneuse, living at No. 200 South Fifth-avenue, was passing by at the time, as was also Thomas Harty, a little boy twelve years old, living at No. 104 Monroe-street. Both ran to get the apple, but the boy was quicker than the Italian woman, who caught him by the collar and demanded the apple. Sooner than give it to her he threw it down a culvert. She then drew a large pocket-knife and stabbed the lad in the back, the blade penetrating the left lung and inflicting a dangerous if not fatal wound. Harty was taken to the Park Hospital. The woman was arrested by Officer Coffey, of the Third Precinct, and committed by Justice Dowling at the Tombs.

The School-Teachers' Association.

The Public School-teachers' Association of this City met last evening, Mr. Gallagher, the retiring President, in the chair. Mr. Arthur McMullin, the newly-elected President, having been appointed an Assistant Superintendent of Schools, sent in his resignation of the Presidency of the Association, which was laid on the table, and a resolution passed to the effect that, out of respect to Mr. McMullin, no election should be had for President. Mr. Anthony A. Griffin, the newly-elected Vice-President, and the other officers elected with him, were duly installed, and a committee appointed to report as to the advisability of getting a charter. The meeting then adjourned.

GEN. GRANT VS. GREELEY.

Hon. Roscoe Conkling and Geo. H. Sharpe on the Questions of the Campaign—An Enthusiastic Meeting.

A large and enthusiastic mass-meeting was held, last evening, by the Republican voters of the Tenth Assembly District, at Concordia Hall, Nos. 28 and 30 Avenue A. The hall was elegantly decorated with banners, transparencies and inscriptions, while a life-like bust of President Grant, circled about with gas jets, occupied a prominent position directly in the centre of the arch above the platform. The body of the house and the galleries were packed with a dense mass of people, numbering many ladies. Many were unable to gain admittance, and crowded the adjacent halls and stairways, striving to catch the words of the speakers.

Wm. C. Marshall acted as President of the meeting, and introduced as the first speaker Gen. Geo. H. Sharpe to the audience.

Gen. Sharpe delivered a very forcible and able address, in which he spoke at length concerning the sufferings of Union soldiers upon Southern battle-fields and in rebel prisons, and illustrated the folly of listening for a moment to the pretensions of a Presidential candidate who supported the Confederates in their attempts, and who is now willing to let them go out of the Union in peace. Referring to a statement of the Tribune in regard to the South, Gen. Sharpe took a copy of the paper in his hand and held it up to the audience, which manifested its disapproval of the sheet, its editor and its doctrines by a violent hissing. Gen. Sharpe's allusions to the course of Mr. Greeley, and his happy hits, were loudly applauded.

Near the conclusion of Gen. Sharpe's address, Hon. Roscoe Conkling arrived, accompanied by Senator Weissman.

His entrance was the signal for loud and continued cheering, and it was amid the greatest outbreaks of enthusiasm that Gen. Sharpe resumed his address and brought it to a conclusion. Hon. Roscoe Conkling was then introduced to the audience, and, addressing it, spoke in substance as follows:

MR. CHAIRMAN AND FELLOW-CITIZENS: I did not expect so great a meeting nor so hearty and enthusiastic a welcome when I was asked to visit your meeting, yet I felt safe in coming, and of at least a cordial reception when I was invited by your neighbor and Senator, Dr. Weissman, and I long ago felt safe to go wherever I was led by so good and wise a man. Besides, I do not feel altogether a stranger in the Sixth Senatorial District, for I shall long remember what a thrill of joy ran through my heart when, during the last election, I received a dispatch when in Utica, signed by Jacob M. Patterson, [cheers,] informing me and my friends there of the result. So you see, for many reasons, I am glad to come and glad to be with you, and thank you for your kindness and hospitality. I did not come here to make a speech, and I am afraid that by the interruption to my friend, the last speaker, you have made a bad trade. I see many among this audience who were not born in this land—many who have crossed the seas and made this great Republic the land of their adoption—many from Germany, and I say, and may say it truly, too, there is no class I would rather meet here to-night, or any other night. Germany and America have been natural brothers from the start; Germany long ago, among other patriots which she contributed, gave us the immortal and fearless Steuben. [Cheers and continued applause.]

Senator Conkling here held up to view a bouquet of rare flowers which were passed up to him from a lady, and said: "I know that this bouquet came from a countrywoman of Steuben's, and I accept it as an earnest of the good-will which shall always prevail between the sons and daughters of Germany and those of America. I can never forget how Germans and Americans fought hand in hand during the Revolution, and in the dark hours of the rebellion as well. I cannot forget how the German regiments rushed to the front to crush the rebellion which Greeley nourished and encouraged during its incipiency and progress, and the seeds of which he still endeavors to foster, as those who have read his recent speeches in the West can perceive. I cannot forget that great and good man, an honor to his country and countrymen—I refer to Bismarck—a man who is a friend to America, and shows it by word and act. I cannot forget, nor do I wish to, how closely Germany and America are united; how in Germany the nation rejoiced when the United States maintained the Union; how in America universal rejoicing followed when Germany triumphed over Napoleon and France. I cannot forget how that quiet man in the White House substantially turned the American Embassy in Paris into a protectory for every German who applied for aid, and how the Communists in Paris passed resolutions at their meetings to hang the American Minister, saying that the Embassy was nothing but a German agency in Paris. Well, if it was so, I am not sorry for it. [Applause.] Now, some persons are trying to prove that the Germans have a natural antipathy to that quiet man in the White House, whom Greeley has said "never has been beaten and never will." I don't believe it and they don't. The constituencies of those here to-night do not point to such a conclusion. Now let me read you some extracts from Mr. Greeley's own words as written in the Tribune and indorsed by the black untamed succotash coalition.

Senator Conkling here read several extracts from the Tribune, in which Mr. Greeley casts abuse upon the German element of American population.

Senator Conkling commented upon this course of Mr. Greeley in strong terms of censure, and continued: When Mr. Greeley did all he could against the country in the hour of rebellion, it was a good thing that the German regiments marched to the front, and with bared bosoms and unflinching heart, moved into the heat of the battle. Mr. Greeley has lost the respect of the people by his course, and now the men who are going to vote for him are not the honest, frugal, hard-working portion of the population, but Kuklux who poisoned wells, the thugs and thieves of Tammany Hall, and such offscouring and dregs of society. Mr. Greeley knows this as well as you or I do.

Senator Conkling closed with some humorous comments upon Mr. Greeley's views upon temperance, the use of liquor and tobacco, and an exposition of the successful financial policy of the Government. His remarks were listened to with most profound attention, and after cheering for the speakers and the names upon the ticket several times, the large audience dispersed.

CONNECTICUT.

Disruption of the Democratic Party of New-Haven Begun—Probability of the City Going Republican.

Special Dispatch to the New-York Times.

NEW-HAVEN, Conn., Sept. 30.—The disruption of the Democratic Party in this city has begun. At the Town Convention this evening, the delegates from the Third Ward were rejected, and they withdrew, threatening to defeat the nominees of the party at the election. The Third Ward is the most populous in the city, and generally gives 1,000 Democratic majority. It is claimed that this disruption will give that ward to the Republicans, which will carry the city for them.

THE INDIANS.

Attack on Texan Lumbermen—A Cavalry Force Sent After the Hostile Red-Skins.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 30.—The Tucson (Arizona) Citizen, of Sept. 24, says that on the 15th inst. thirty Apaches attacked a party employed in hauling lumber from the Santa Kita Mountains to Tucson, within five miles of Camp Crittenden, and killed one Mexican and wounded another, and also stole the mules and horses of the party, together with 300 rounds of ammunition, three needle-guns and one pistol. Lieut. Hall, of the Fifth Cavalry, gave chase for three days. He is convinced that the savages went direct to the Indian reserve at Camp Grant, where he thinks the murderers of Lieut. Stewart and party are now subsisting at the Government expense.

The California Railroad Excitement.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 30.—The vote of San Diego is almost unanimously in favor of issuing city bonds to the amount of $150,000 for the purchase of the franchise of the San Diego and Gila River Railroad, and the grounds for the terminus of the Texas Pacific Railroad.

Railroad Accident in New-Hampshire—Six Passengers Injured.

LANCASTER, N. H., Sept. 30.—An extra express passenger train on the Boston, Concord and Montreal Railroad was thrown from the track by stray cattle, on Saturday night. The cars went over an embankment, upset, and were completely wrecked. There were but very few passengers on the train. Allen Quimby, of Littleton, was taken up for dead, but there are hopes of his recovery. Francis Richardson and Ira Smith, both of Lancaster, were badly hurt, the latter in the spine, but they are doing well. Sanford Wallace, brakeman, of Worcester, was seriously cut and bruised. Three lady passengers and the conductor, Geo. Moulton, sustained slight injuries.

OHIO.

How Hassaurek Stands Now—Banks and Pendleton Singing in Tune in Cincinnati—Banks Discovers a New Caste.

Special Dispatch to the New-York Times.

CINCINNATI, Ohio, Sept. 30.—The chief feature in the campaign in this city is the hot war that is waging on the mercenary Hassaurek. The conviction is now well-nigh general that the proof of his offer to sell the support of his paper and his services on the stump to the Republicans for $30,000, is ample and conclusive. As a consequence the Germans are turning against him, and it is altogether probable that the incident will have the effect of increasing the Republican vote by a larger number than could have been won by Hassaurek's direct efforts.

Hon. Job Stevenson, whose loyalty to the Republican Party some foolish Greeleyites permitted themselves to doubt, made a ringing speech to-night at Clifton Hall, eloquently urging the necessity of continuing the Government in the hands of the great party that had saved the nation.

Gen. Banks and George Pendleton addressed a crowd of Greeley people to-night. Mr. Pendleton harped on the old strings, but played no new tune. Banks devoted himself to the business aspects of the campaign, saying over what he has already said elsewhere. In the course of his remarks he conceded that the business men of the country were opposed to Greeley, and then proceeded as follows: "Now, I say to you fellow-citizens, that while we regard them with the highest respect, and while we concede to them the exercise of all the power that God and their country have given them, we do not believe in their right, by the exercise of corrupt power and money power, to control communities or masses of votes, and the people will never submit to a government controlled and directed in that way. That is the caste which we wanted to get rid of by the war."

Very large meetings were held today at Mt. Vernon and Canton. At the former place Mr. Creswell addressed an immense audience, and there was the largest torch-light procession ever seen in Knox County. At the latter place Senator Wilson spoke to an audience of 15,000. The greatest enthusiasm prevailed.

Hassaurek Makes a Fiasco at Toledo—Leading Specimens of Greeleyites.

Special Dispatch to the New-York Times.

TOLEDO, Ohio, Sept. 30.—Hassaurek, the mercenary Greeleyite, made a speech in English here on Friday night, in company with Hurd, the Democratic candidate for Congress, but the meeting was a failure. The Republicans held a fine meeting the same night, which was addressed in a brilliant speech by Prof. John M. Langston, the eloquent colored orator, of Washington. A thousand tanners turned out with torches and eclipsed the coalition display completely. Hassaurek went off disgusted at his failure.

The story of his mercenary course has preceded him everywhere, and the Republican papers take good care to have it well before the people wherever he appears. As a consequence, he spends much of his time in explanations and denials, but he has not yet met the fact squarely in a single instance.

Some indication of the character of the coalition reform canvass in this part of Ohio may be gathered from the fact that two of the most prominent Greeley stumpers were "Jim" Ashley, the corrupt renegade, and "Jim" Steedman, the defaulter and gambler.

Gen. Woodford and Senator Wilson will have a great meeting here Wednesday night.

Senator Wilson at Canton and Massillon—An Ovation Everywhere.

Special Dispatch to the New-York Times.

MASSILLON, Ohio, Sept. 30.—Senator Wilson's first meeting in Ohio was held today at Canton, and was an immense success. The procession was several miles long, and the largest ever known in Stark County. Senator Wilson spoke for over an hour to an immense and enthusiastic crowd composed chiefly of Republicans. To-night Canton is alive with excitement. The largest torch-light procession of the campaign marching its streets while the indoor and open-air meetings were organized. A large night meeting was held in the Opera-house in this city, addresses being made by Senator Wilson, A. J. Ricks, of Tennessee, and others. The political tide runs high, and Ohio is safe for the Republicans by a handsome majority.

NEW-YORK.

An Ex-Greeleyite and Life-Long Democrat Pronounces for Grant and Wilson.

Special Dispatch to the New-York Times.

CORTLAND, N. Y., Sept. 30.—John S. Barber, Esq., a life-long Democrat, and recently one of the leading speakers on the Greeley coalition side, has declared for Grant and Wilson, and will go upon the stump for the Republican ticket. It creates immense enthusiasm and sensation here. He will publish a stirring letter to-morrow in the Standard & Journal.

PENNSYLVANIA.

Enthusiastic Grant and Wilson Demonstration in Scranton.

Special Dispatch to the New-York Times.

SCRANTON, Penn., Sept. 30.—This city was ablaze to-night for Grant and Wilson, the occasion being a monster torch-light parade. Over 600 mounted men and over 3,100 torches were in line, carried mostly by uniformed companies of Tanners from Wilkesbarre, Binghamton and Scranton. All houses and places of business of Republicans along the route of procession were illuminated, and a splendid fire-works were displayed throughout the city. The parade was an immense success, the largest and most imposing ever witnessed in this section. Secretary Robeson, Mr. B. R. Johnson, J. W. Hopkins, Rev. W. B. Cullis and others addressed the packed audience at the Tannery. The parade lasted until a late hour, and the streets were everywhere jammed with spectators. The general good order was quite unusual for such a demonstration. The Republicans are jubilant over the success, and the people here are alive to their duty for next Tuesday.

The Illinois Campaign—Grand Rally in Chicago.

Special Dispatch to the New-York Times.

CHICAGO, Ill., Sept. 30.—The Republicans of the Garden City held a rousing ratification meeting here to-night, the leading feature of which was the speech of Gen. Hawley, of Connecticut, whose forcible and eloquent vindication of the National Administration and the Republican Party evoked a most enthusiastic indorsement from the immense crowd which had assembled to hear him.

Drowning Casualty in Maine—Four Excursionists Upset and Lost.

EASTPORT, Me., Sept. 30.—A small boat containing four young men, in returning from Pembroke Fair on Friday night, was upset, and its passengers are supposed to be drowned. The boat has been found, but the bodies have not yet been recovered. Two of the men were sons of Wallace Guptil, one a son of Nelson Guptil, and the other a son of Capt. William Muhlman.

Board of Assistant Aldermen.

The Board of Assistant Aldermen met yesterday. The Mayor returned the resolution without approval, authorizing legal proceedings in behalf of the Corporation against persons taking possession of certain property in front of the Five Points House of Industry, as he is satisfied that they have a legal right to the property. Laid over.

The Corporation Counsel sent an opinion that the Eighth-avenue Railroad has a right to charge five cents extra for carrying passengers above Fifty-ninth-street. Ordered on file.

Several papers were received from the Board of Aldermen and laid over, and the Board adjourned.

Espartero Leaves the Senate—Claims which Spain had Better Submit to the United States First.

MADRID, Sept. 30.—Gen. Espartero has resigned his position of member of the Spanish Senate.

It is reported that the Spanish Government has resolved to submit to the other European Powers the question of the justice of its claims against the Government of the United States for damages sustained by filibustering expeditions from American ports for Cuba.

FRANCE.

Gambetta's Course Condemned by the Government—Victor Hugo Nominated for the Assembly.

PARIS, Sept. 30.—The Government condemns M. Gambetta's course in addressing the people in the Provinces. His speeches are considered indiscreet and ill-timed, and are calculated to needlessly agitate the country, which needs repose.

Victor Hugo has been nominated by the Republicans of Algiers for member of the French Assembly.

A WHOLE CREW LOST.

Wreck of the Nazarene on the English Coast and all Hands Drowned.

LONDON, Sept. 30.—The ship Nazarene was wrecked off Formby, Lancashire, during the heavy gales the latter part of last week, and all on board were drowned. Many reports of other disasters of less severe character than that of the Nazarene, have been received.

GREAT BRITAIN.

Railway Employes Preparing to Immigrate to America—The Lord Chancellorship.

LONDON, Sept. 30.—A meeting of railway "servants" was held in Hyde Park yesterday afternoon to take into consideration measures for furthering the movement which has been inaugurated for the immigration of large numbers of this class to Canada and the United States.

The London Times this morning confirms the report of the resignation of the Lord Chancellorship of England by Lord Hatherly.

Prof. Tyndall sailed from Liverpool for New-York last Saturday on the steam-ship Russia.

THE OIL REGIONS.

Excitement Over the Suspension Movement.

TITUSVILLE, Penn., Sept. 30.—The oil regions are again at a fever-heat of excitement everywhere. Intense feeling prevails over the movement to suspend the production of oil. Dispatches from the districts generally show that the movement is universal, and there are probably not over fifty wells producing to-night. From some localities it is reported that violence had been resorted to in carrying out the measure. Well rigs have been burned and engines destroyed by sledge-hammers and the oil-tanks tapped. Some are still strongly holding out against it, but it is thought they will yield and further violence be avoided. The effect of this movement is already apparent in an advance of prices and a more active market.

Fatal Affray Between Railroad Laborers—Three Men Probably Killed.

CAIRO, Ill., Sept. 30.—At Tunnel Hill, Saturday night, an affray took place among the laborers employed in the railroad tunnel. Three men were stabbed. One died, and the other two will probably die. Their names are unknown. After the mêlée an attempt was made to blow up the residence of a saloon-keeper named Coner, who had incurred the ill will of the crowd, but the fuse being wet failed to ignite the powder, a keg of which had been placed under the house, and Coner and his family, who were asleep, had a narrow escape. Whisky seems to have been the only exciting cause.

Mrs. Fair Acquitted—The California Jury System.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 30.—After being out nearly sixty hours, the jury in Mrs. Fair's case rendered a verdict at 9 o'clock this morning of acquittal. Mrs. Fair, who was in Court, fainted on the announcement. The verdict excites no surprise, on account of the inferior character of the jury, the members of which were selected under the technicalities of the law from among men so ignorant as not to know enough about this notorious case to have formed any opinion favorable or unfavorable to the prisoner.

Extensive Fire at Bridgeport—Destruction of a Planing-Mill and Lumber-Yard.

Special Dispatch to the New-York Times.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., Sept. 30.—The steam planing-mill and extensive lumber-yard and dock property of S. C. Nickerson & Son, in this city, were destroyed by fire this evening. The loss is estimated at $100,000; insured for $20,000 in the Home, Hartford and Phœnix Companies.

The Ohio Lunatic Asylum Fire—Remains Found in the Ruins.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Sept. 30.—The workmen in clearing away the débris at the Lunatic Asylum at Newburg, yesterday afternoon, found the bodies of Miss Walker, Benjamin Burgess and an iron-puddler, of Newburg, who has been missing since the fire. Two other persons are still missing. Several wards in the wings of the building least injured have been put in order, and about 100 patients accommodated. Those in the jail and at the Central Police Station, of this City, were taken to Newburg yesterday.

MONDAY, Sept. 30—P. M.

The Secretary of the Treasury has advertised his Gold sales and Bond purchases through October, as in September, $1,000,000 Bonds to be bought every Wednesday and $1,000,000 Gold sold every Thursday. There are five Wednesdays and five Thursdays in the month, so that the operation will be at least $5,000,000 each in Gold and Bonds.

The sales of Gold opened this forenoon as they closed on Saturday at 113⅞@113⅞ ⅌ cent. The quotation soon reached 114⅛, which was maintained afterward to the close, with the highest sales at 114 1-16. The cash Gold was in quick demand for deliveries, and cost 1-64@3-32@1-64 ⅌ cent.

Exchange remains about 107½ for Sixty day Sterling, and 108⅜@108⅝ for sight drafts, with demand bills of the next grade to prime at 108½.

The Public Funds were fully steady. New 1865s sold a quarter better, at 113¾, and the 1867s rose from 113½ to 113⅝, with sales on seller's option of thirty days a quarter to three-eighths under the market.

It has been a dull day in the Stock Market, most of the attention being reserved for the movements of Money. During the forenoon 7 ⅌ cent. was the rate for call loans, but this was advanced to 1-16 ⅌ cent. for one day before 2 P. M. Later, this charge could not be maintained, and the rate fell to Coin interest, rallying to 1-32 for one day, and settling to Coin again at last.

The chief interest in stocks lay in Pacific Mail, with Western Union and North-western next. The market opened ¼ to ½ lower this morning, touched the lowest point 1 P. M., and closed somewhat stronger. The fluctuations were as follows: Pacific Mail, 74 @ 74⅛ @ 73⅝ @ 74 @ 73⅝ @ 74⅛ @ 74; Western Union, 69¼@69@69⅛@68⅞@69⅜; North-western, 71⅛@71⅛@70⅞@71; North-western Preferred, 86@86½@86@86½; Rock Island, 110⅞@110⅝@110⅞@110⅝; Ohios, 42⅞@42⅛@42⅝; Wabash, 69@68½; Union Pacific, 38⅞@38⅛@38⅝; Erie, 48@47⅝@47⅛@47⅝; and C., C. and I. C., 35⅛@34⅛@34⅝, with New-York Central selling at 93⅛@92⅞@93, and Lake Shore, 88 @ 87½ @ 87⅝. Compared with Saturday's closing sales, the last prices of today show generally a decline of one-half ⅌ cent., while Western Union has rallied to the same figure, 69⅜. There were sales of New-Jersey Central at 102¼@102⅛@102¼, and the Stock Exchange has decided to take no account of the closing of the transfers today for the dividend, as the question of its payment has been taken into the Courts of New-Jersey. The stock will, therefore, for the present continue to be dealt in "dividend on." Sales of Delaware, Lackawanna and Western were made at 97½@97⅛, Panama at 142, Pittsburg at 88½@87½, and Morris and Essex at 92.

State Bonds were quiet and steady, with dealings in Tennessees at 72½@72⅝. Pacific Railroad bonds steady: Centrals, 99⅞@100, and Union Firsts, 87⅝@87⅞. The Union Pacific Land Grants sold at 80, including 3½ ⅌ cent. interest; to-morrow's coupon will be paid as usual at the office of Morton, Bliss & Co., No. 30 Broad-street.

BANKING AND FINANCIAL.

☞ THE CHICAGO AND CANADA SOUTHERN

First Mortgage Sinking Fund Thirty Years

7 PER CENT. GOLD BONDS,

We recommend to investors as a Safe and Profitable security. Present price, 90 and accrued interest. Interest payable April and October, at the Union Trust Company, Coupon or Registered. This road is the western end or link of the Canada Southern, which together form the new trunk line from Buffalo to Chicago, running directly into Chicago on its own line; is straight and level, and the shortest line now built, or that can be built, between Chicago and Buffalo. The great accumulation of freights at Chicago and Toledo, even now, beyond the capacity of the present Trunk Line, renders the speedy completion of the road an absolute necessity. Pamphlets and all information furnished by The Brooklyn Excise Commissioners and the Controller—The Mayor's Veto.

The Mayor of Brooklyn has returned to the Common Council, without his approval, the ordinance adopted by that body on the 16th instant, making it the duty of the Commissioners of Excise to pay into the City Treasury at the end of every month all moneys received by them, after deducting such sums as may be required to pay the necessary employés and other needful expenses of their Department.

The Mayor proceeds to say, in substance, that it is well known that the Controller is endeavoring to systematize the accounts of the City so that there shall be harmony in the work of all the Departments, and to facilitate any investigation of the City's accounts that may be desired, and also to show at a glance what amount may be remaining to the credit of any Department. "To this end all persons receiving compensation from the city as salaried officers should be properly enrolled, and their services certified to at the end of each month," &c., "except, perhaps, as in the case of the Excise Commissioners, where persons are temporarily employed and the service they perform is of a secret character." To aid the efficiency of the Board, the Mayor suggests that a proper contingent fund should be placed at their disposal; and as the Board has become an important Department of the City Government, adding largely to the city revenue, nothing should be done to cripple them in the performance of their responsible duties. The Mayor thinks that an ordinance can be framed that will meet the case in all its bearings.

The Controller sent a communication, yesterday, to the Board of Aldermen, complaining that the Excise Commissioners refused to pay over to the City Treasury daily the moneys received by them. The communication was referred to the Law Committee.

ASHES—A fair demand prevails for Pots at from $8 25@$8 75 ⅌ 100 lbs. Pearls nominal at $11@$11 50 ⅌ 100 lbs.

BEES-WAX—Has been dull and heavy within the range of 34c.@34½c. for Western, and 35c.@35½c. for Southern.

BRICKS—Have been moderately inquired for, with Common Pale at $5; North River, $8 50@$8 50; Croton, $12@$16; Philadelphia Front, $40@$45 ⅌ thousand.

COFFEE—Rio has been held firmly in the instances of desirable grades, which have been in moderate supply, but the local trade has been light. Sales have been reported of 4,010 bags by the Siege, at Hampton Roads, for Baltimore; and 4,000 bags by the Molly, at New-Orleans, on private terms. The stock of Rio and Santos in first hands here, this evening, is 60,104 bags, and at the outports, 31,030 bags. Other kinds quiet. We quote invoices thus: Rio cargoes as follows: Ordinary, 14½c.@15c.; fair, 15¼c.@16c.; good, 16½c.@16¾c.; prime, 17½c.@17¾c., gold, ⅌ ℔., 60 and 90 days' credit; Rio, in job lots, at 14½c.@18c., gold; Java, 18½c.@20c.; Maracaibo, 15½c.@18½c.; Laguayra, 16c.@17½c.; Native Ceylon, 15½c.@17c.; San Domingo, 13½c.@14c., gold, ⅌ ℔.

COTTON—Has been in less confident demand for early delivery and has been quoted weak, though not lower. Sales, 2,004 bales, (of which 200 bales were to arrive,) including 1,291 bales to shippers, 695 bales to spinners and 18 bales to speculators. For forward delivery, there has been a pretty free movement at, however, a reduction of 1-32c.@⅛c. ⅌ ℔.; sales, 17,250 bales, (2,500 bales last evening and 14,750 bales to-day,) basis Low Middling, with September contracts closing at 18 7-16c.; October at 18 1-16c.; November at 18⅛c.; December at 18¼c.; January at 18⅝c.; February at 19¼c.; March at 20c.; April at 20½c.; May at 20⅝c. The averages of Saturday's forward deliveries, as officially reported on the Bulletin, were as follows: September, 18.56c.; October, 18.28c.; November, 18.37c.; December, 18.62c.; January, 18.21c.; February, 19⅛c.; April, 20⅛c. The receipts at this port today were 9,342 bales, including 3,847 bales from Charleston, 1,405 bales from Savannah, 1,156 bales from Norfolk, 4,145 bales from New-Orleans, 90 bales per rail. The reported receipts at the shipping ports today were 14,963 bales, and thus far this week 24,506 bales, against 20,377 bales same time the preceding week; and since Sept. 1, 183,972 bales, against 92,282 bales same time last year. The following quotations are based on Cotton running in quality not more than half a grade above or below the grade quoted:

FLOUR AND MEAL—There has been a moderate movement reported in State and Western Flour, chiefly in the low grades, with the advantage as to prices, however, rather in favor of buyers, particularly on the less desirable grades of shipping stock, which have been offered with more urgency. The export inquiry has been checked, to some extent, by the scarcity of ocean freight room, and the advanced rates claimed by ship-owners. Sales have been reported since our last of 12,400 bbls., including inferior to choice Superfine State and Western at $6@$6 65, chiefly at $6 20@$6 50; inferior to good Extra at $7@$7 50, chiefly at $7 10@$7 25 for lines; good to fancy at $7 50@$8 10; poor to good shipping Extra Western at $7@$7 50; and good to choice shipping brands round-hoop Ohio at $7 10@$7 60, ⅌ bbl.; and trade and family Extras at proportionate rates.

Southern Flour has been quiet but without material change as to values. Sales have been reported since our last of 1,025 bbls., at $6 10@$8 35 for very inferior to very good, and $8 35@$12 50 for very good to very choice Extra, ⅌ bbl. Rye Flour has been in demand and steady at from $3 50@$5 35 for very inferior to very choice ⅌ bbl.; sales 330 bbls., chiefly at $5 10@$5 85 ⅌ bbl. Corn-meal has been in fair request at $3 35@$3 65 for Yellow Western; $3@$3 50 (nominally) for White do.; $3 60 for Marsh's Caloric; $3 55@$3 70 for Jersey, and $3 90@$3 95 for Brandywine; the reported sales were 750 bbls., in lots.

GRAIN—There has been a more active movement reported in Spring Wheat, chiefly for export, at an advance of 1c.@2c. a bushel on the more desirable grades of stock, the offerings of which were on a restricted scale. Winter Wheat has been quiet at about former figures, few really prime samples available. Sales have been reported since our last of 178,000 bushels at $1 66 for choice No. 1 Milwaukee Spring; $1 56@$1 58 for good to very choice No. 2 do., chiefly at $1 58 for good samples; $1 54@$1 55, mainly at $1 54, for prime No. 2 North-western Spring; $1 52 for straight No. 2 Chicago do.; $1 45 for No. 3 do.; $1 47 for Nos. 2 and 3 Spring Mixed; $1 33@$1 43 for rejected and soft Spring, in small lots; $1 62½@$1 70 for Red Western; $1 75@$1 78 for Amber do....Corn has been in brisk demand mostly for shipment, though in part for home use and on speculative account, at firmer rates. The later dealings, however, indicated a turn in favor of buyers. Sales have been reported since our last of 259,000 bushels at 65½c.@68½c. for good to prime sailing-vessel grades of Mixed Western, afloat, chiefly at 65½c.@66c., and closing at 65½c. for good stock; 66¼c. for High Mixed do.; 64½c.@65½c. for Ordinary to choice steamer grades of New Mixed Western, afloat; 66½c.@67½c. for Yellow Western; 68c.@70c. for White Western; 59c.@63½c. for damaged Mixed Western, in lots, ⅌ bushel. For forward delivery, further sales of 125,900 bushels prime Mixed Western were made at 66½c., sellers' option, October, and 68c. seller last half of November, ⅌ bushel....Rye has been very quiet at previous figures....Of Barley, 5,000 bushels new No. 2 Milwaukee were sold at $1 07½ ⅌ bushel; market dull and somewhat unsettled, as yet....Barley-malt inactive at about former quotations....New Oats have been quoted firm, on a good demand. Old stock depressed and declining, on a slow trade. Sales have been reported since our last of 62,000 bushels, at 41c.@45c. for ordinary to strictly prime new Mixed Western, chiefly at 43½c. for good stock; 38c.@41c. for inferior to good Black and Dark Mixed; 42c.@48c. for poor to extra choice new White Western; 44c.@45c. (nominally) for Old Mixed Western, in store; 43c. for Black State.

HAY—Bale Hay has been in fair request at $1@$1 05 for shipping, and $1 30@$1 60 for local use, ⅌ 100 ℔s. Straw quiet, at from 65c.@$1 05 for the range of qualities, Short and Long, ⅌ 100 ℔s.

HOPS—Have been much more freely offered, and again quoted lower, on a very moderate call for stock. We quote: New Crop, 28c.@35c.; Old Olds, growths 1868 and 1869, 10c.@15c.@20c. ⅌ ℔. The week's receipts of domestic were 1,291 bales; imports of foreign, 66 bales. Exports of Hops for the week, 304 bales, including 200 bales to London, and 104 bales to Havre.

LEATHER—There has been a moderate trade reported in most kinds, since our last, with values quoted essentially as before. The receipts have been fair, and the assortment of stock more satisfactory. The shipments to Europe continue to relieve the market of a considerable proportion of the low grades. The exports within the two months of August and September, amounted to nearly 150,000 sides.

MOLASSES—Has been very quiet at old figures; 30 bbls New-Orleans sold at 75c. ⅌ gallon. We quote: New Crop Porto Rico at 30c.@57c.; Cuba, 20c.@36c.; English Islands, at 30c.@36c., and New-Orleans, 40c.@85c., ⅌ gallon.

NAVAL STORES—Resin has been in less request and rather less firm as to values, with Strained nominally quoted at $4 50; sales, 25 bbls. No. 2 at $4 75, and 950 bbls. No. 1 Pale at $5 25@$6, ⅌ 280 ℔s.....Tar has been dull on the basis of $3 70@$3 80 for Washington....Spirits Turpentine has been quoted a shade cheaper, closing tamely on the basis of 64c.@64½c.; sales, 345 bbls., at the quotations; also, 150 bbls. New-York pkgs. at 65c. ⅌ gallon.

PETROLEUM—Under the Creek advices of the probable suspension of production, there has been a livelier demand for Crude, in bulk, here, at much higher prices, with sales reported of 6,000 bbls., at 12½c.@12⅝c., closing with 13c. asked; and 3,000 bbls., October delivery, at 13c....Refined has been in some request at 24½c., but has been held as high as 25c. Of Refined, in cases, 6,500 cases sold, part at 29½c. At Philadelphia, Refined was quoted at 24c....Naphtha inactive, having been held above the views of purchasers.

PROVISIONS—Mess Pork, both new and old, has been in more request and rather firmer. Other kinds dull. Sales have been reported of 1,950 bbls., in lots, at $14 10@$14 25 for full and job lots of new Western Mess; $13 25 for (1,000 bbls) for old do.; $13 25@$13 50 for Prime Mess; $11 50 for Extra Prime, ⅌ bbl. For forward delivery a limited inquiry has been noted, with sales reported of 250 bbls. Western Mess, seller October, at $14 05 ⅌ bbl....City-dressed Hogs have been moderately active at from 6½c.@7½c., as extremes, ⅌ ℔....Cut-meats continue quiet, with Dry-salted and Pickled Hams ranging from 12½c.@14c.; Shoulders at 5½c.@8⅛c., and Bellies at 7⅛c.@8⅛c., ⅌ ℔.; sales equal to 140 pks. Also, 10,000 ℔s. Pickled Bellies, in bulk, at 8½c.; 1,000 Pickled Shoulders at 8⅛c.; 1,700 Pickled Hams at 14c. @14½c.; 500 Smoked Shoulders at 9c.; 500 Smoked Hams at 15½c.; and 100 boxes Dry-salted Hams, and 275 boxes do. do. Shoulders, January delivery, at 9⅛c. and 5⅛c. respectively....Bacon has been more sought after at rather steadier prices; sales, 650 boxes Long Clear at 8⅛c., and 1,000 boxes Short Clear, December and March deliveries, on private terms; also, 800 boxes Long and Short Clear, January and February deliveries, at 7⅛c.@7⅛c. ⅌ ℔....There has been a slow movement reported in Lard for early delivery at about previous quotations. Sales reported of 530 tcs. and bbls. for early delivery, at 8⅛c.@8⅜c. for prime to choice old Western Steam; 9⅛c. for choice Western Steam and Kettle-rendered; 8⅛c.@9⅛c. for prime to very choice; 8⅛c.@8⅝c. for No. 1, and 9 3-16c.@9⅜c. for Refined. For forward delivery the demand has been light, with prime Western Steam, seller October quoted nominally at 8⅛c.@8⅜c. Sales, 250 tcs., seller the remainder of the year, at 8⅛c., and 500 tcs., seller February, at 8⅛c. ⅌ ℔....Beef products sell slowly within the range of from $4@$9 for inferior to prime brands Mess, and $8 50@$11 50 for Extra Mess. Tierce Beef at $12@$16 for Prime Mess; $16@$20 for ordinary to fair Indian Mess, and $24@$26 for Extra do., special brands, ⅌ tierce. New Beef Hams at $28, at which rate 50 bbls. were placed.

SUGARS—The movements in Raw show a decidedly strong and fairly active market, the demand being mainly from refiners, who are quite free purchasers at the ruling figures, which remain essentially as before, though holders are claiming an advance of ⅛c. on the more desirable grades of stock. Sales have been reported since our last of 2,024 hhds., 550 boxes, and 25,000 bags, including 1,363 hhds. very good common to about good refining Cuba (of which 900 hhds. were placed late on Saturday) at 8⅛c.@9⅛c., chiefly at 9⅛c.@9⅛c.; 418 hhds. Centrifugal on private terms; 115 hhds. do., grocery grade, at 10⅛c.; 300 boxes do., at 10⅛c.; 25 hhds. grocery Porto Rico at 9⅛c.; 250 boxes Clayed Cuba at 9⅛c.; 25,000 bags Manila (late on Saturday) within the range of 8c.@8⅛c., and 83 hhds. Melado (also late on Saturday) on private terms. Refined rather less active, but quoted steady.

TALLOW—Has been in moderate demand at unchanged figures. Sales have been reported of 84,000 ℔s. at from 8⅛c.@9c. for ordinary to choice, chiefly at 9⅛c. Also, 21,000 ℔s. Grease at 6⅛c.@7⅛c. ⅌ ℔.

TOBACCO—Has been rather quiet, but quoted steady. The receipts of Domestic at the inspection warehouses of New-York and Brooklyn in September were 1,856 hhds.; deliveries, 3,473 hhds.; stock this evening, 15,199 hhds.

WHALEBONE—Has been in rather more demand and quoted firmer at $1 05 for North-west, $1 10 for Arctic, and 85c.@90c., gold, for South Sea, ⅌ ℔.

WHISKY—Sales have been reported of 250 bbls., in lots, at 92c. ⅌ gallon; market dull.

WOOL—There has been more call noted for desirable grades of stock, both domestic and foreign, chiefly from manufacturers, but with rather more urgency apparent in the offerings of supplies, prices have favored buyers slightly, though holders have been unwilling to make any further concessions as a rule. An auction sale of Wool is announced by Messrs. [illegible] Brown & Son, the [illegible] in the continuation of their regular series of public sales; pending which operations in private will doubtless be somewhat restricted. The finer grades of California Wool are in comparatively scant supply, and in rather more favor with buyers. Of foreign, Cape samples attract most attention.

NEW-YORK CATTLE MARKET.

NEW-YORK, Monday, Sept. 30, 1872.

Trade in Beeves, on yesterday forenoon, at Weehawken Yards, was slow; prices ranged from 9¾c.@14c. ⅌ ℔., weights from 4 cwt. to 7½ cwt., generally on estimated weight. Thirty-seven cars of Beeves came to hand and were not all sold off. On this forenoon, at One Hundredth-street Yards, trade was slow, only a few of the lots on hand were sold off. Prices ranged from 9¼c.@15c. ⅌ ℔., weights from 6 cwt. to 9¼ cwt. on 54 ℔s.@60 ℔s. to the cwt. net. Milch Cows of fair quality do pretty well; prices from $45 to $65 ⅌ head. WHOLESALE PRODUCE MARKET.

Our quotations are the wholesale prices paid for sound merchantable Produce in good clean packages.

BUTTER—The receipts have been 8,721 pks. for the past three days, and 17,358 pks. for the week. The demand for stock has been less urgent and the tendency of prices, in most instances, rather in favor of buyers, particularly for grades of strictly prime makes, both of State and Western, the offerings of which latter are on a restricted scale. The export movement is yet very limited, and confined for the most part to low-priced stock. The home trade call is on a moderate scale, mainly from local and nearby sources. The week's exports were 711 pks. The receipts of Butter since Jan. 1 have been 452,913 pks., against 459,000 pks. same time in 1871; exports, 3,274,041 ℔s., against 4,838,314 ℔s. same time in 1871. We quote:

Grease Butter, original packages....	7½@ 8½

CHEESE—The receipts during the past three days have been 20,534 boxes, and for the week 38,160 boxes. There has been a comparatively moderate movement reported in all grades, with, however, no material alteration as to values of desirable makes, which have not been offered with much urgency at the ruling figures, though holders, as a rule, have been quite prompt in responding to the calls of their customers. The outward movement has been less satisfactory. The week's exports were 20,506 boxes. The receipts here since Jan. 1 have been 1,238,277 pks., against 1,039,000 pks. same time in 1871. Exports, 55,289,079 ℔s., against 55,757,790 ℔s. the same time in 1871. We quote as follows:

We cannot notice anonymous communications. In all cases we require the writer's name and address, not for publication, but as a guarantee of good faith.

We cannot under any circumstances return rejected communications, nor can we undertake to preserve manuscripts.

We have already printed and sold one hundred thousand copies of our Second Campaign Supplement, and another edition of one hundred thousand will be worked off this week. Orders should be sent in without delay.

SECOND CAMPAIGN EDITION OF THE NEW-YORK TIMES.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

Our second campaign edition is now ready. It is a paper of great value and interest, containing many articles especially written for it, and a very large collection of SHORT QUOTATIONS from the best letters and speeches which have been published during the canvass. These selections are pithy and full of point, and must prove of great service to clubs, speakers, and newspapers. They have been prepared with great care, and names and dates are carefully given in every case. The general contents render this the most effective campaign paper ever issued, and one which is indispensable to Republicans throughout the country.

Among the interesting features of this edition may be included the following:

1. An article bringing together the outrageous slanders upon Gen. Grant which have been circulated under the authority of Horace Greeley, either in his own paper or his other organs—together with an incontestable refutation of these slanders.

2. Mr. Greeley's letters recommending bad men for office, showing the real drift of his sentiments as a "Civil Service Reformer."

3. A reply to the attacks upon Gen. Hartranft, Republican candidate for Governor in Pennsylvania.

4. Greeley and Tweed—their partnership in a tobacco manufacturing company. The proofs and the facts, showing Greeley's close and secret alliance with Tweed during the reign of the "Boss."

5. Doolittle: His dishonesty and bad faith. Portrait of a sample Greeleyite.

6. Reuben E. Fenton: A short sketch of a career which began in embezzlement, and was succeeded by corruption of the worst kind. Fenton's exploits as a dishonest clerk and a corrupt Governor will be partially described in this article—an article rendered necessary by the fact that Fenton would hold a very high office if Greeley could insure his own election.

7. Greeley's Secession Record: A list of his utterances on that subject, with examples from 1860 to 1872.

8. The Oakes Ames Slander, invented by the Sun and New-York Tribune, fully disproved.

9. The Cincinnati platform and address, with notes by Horace Greeley. A very interesting and curious article, well worthy of preservation.

10. Gen. Dix's famous order: Who wrote it? The truth on the subject.

11. A selection in short and pithy paragraphs, from the best speeches and letters which have been published during the canvass. These quotations would alone render the campaign edition of great value to the Republican cause all over the country. They include paragraphs, bright and pungent, from the speeches and writings of William Lloyd Garrison, Gerrit Smith, Frederick Douglass, Richard H. Dana, Senator Conkling, Rev. Henry Ward Beecher, Dr. Lieber, Senator Morton, Vice-President Colfax, Judge Hoar, Judge Pirello, Senator Ferry, Attorney General Williams and others. Whenever anything of force has been spoken or published, we have extracted the best part of it and reserved it for this special edition.

The edition consists of four pages, price three cents a single copy, or $2 per hundred, and $20 per thousand. Orders should be sent in without delay, as we can only supply them according to the dates at which they are received.

"Mr. Blaine appeared, in the extracts from legal documents which we published on Saturday, in the light of a Congressional procurer. He was hired to bribe other Congressmen. The stock was placed in his hands for that purpose. In a word, he was the Oakes Ames of the Pacific Railroad, Eastern Division.

Mr. Blaine took in a lump $1,930,000 of stock, presumably for the same purpose, (bribery.) This, too, was early in his career. He has doubtless learned with experience."—New-York Tribune, Sept. 30.

The Tribune appeared, from facts stated in our columns yesterday, to have been concerned in a deliberate falsehood and forgery, the facts in regard to the stock referred to being as follows:

1. That the stock alleged to have been given to Speaker Blaine was, so far as given at all, given to some one not only long before Mr. Blaine was Speaker, but eighteen months before he was in Congress at all.

2. That the schedule does not contain the name of Blaine at all.

3. That the schedule does show three thousand shares, amounting to $150,000, assigned to B. F. Camp and others, and that then, as now and ever since, all the influence Camp has had has come from his intimacy with Horace Greeley.

Now, observe how the Tribune will add meanness to duplicity in sneaking out of this difficulty.

Mr. Charles Francis Adams, Jr., yesterday delivered a speech to his neighbors, of which we give the salient points, and as much of the substance as we can find room for. It is a declaration of his reasons for favoring the re-election of President Grant, and is made from the standpoint of an enthusiastic revenue and civil service reformer and an ultra free-trader. It is marked by the caustic wit and sweeping denunciation characteristic of the original Adamses, and by the independence which the later ones have shown as well. As an exposure of the trick by which the candidate of Baltimore was provided beforehand at Cincinnati, and as a repudiation of the candidate himself, it will be read with interest by all who share Mr. Adams' intense disgust with both the trick and the candidate.

The World has painted an ideal portrait of a Democratic candidate for Mayor. He is to be a gentleman, rich, not a known reformer, in order that he may not offend the Ring, yet not opposed by such men as O'Conor or Tilden, and he is to be a Democrat. When the World has found this kind of a man it will undoubtedly persuade him to accept its advocacy by showing him those passages in its columns in which, for daring to accept the Controllership, it denounced Mr. Andrew H. Green as "lending himself to a skulking intrigue," as becoming "associate, screen and chief factotum of a man branded a little better than a 'highway robber,'" and as having made "the most marvellous prostitution of a pure reputation we ever heard of." If alongside of these it displays the cringing praise it bestowed on the Boss Thief of the Ring, it will have no difficulty in getting any respectable gentleman to lend himself to its schemes.

To the Democrats of Ohio: Writing to a Democrat who urged his nomination less than a year ago, Mr. Greeley said: I am not the man you need. Your party is mostly free-trade, and I am a ferocious protectionist. I have no doubt that I might be nominated and elected by your help; but it would place us both in false positions. If I, who am adversely interested, can see this, I am sure your good sense will, on reflection, realize it. (Letter to P. Donan, Oct. 18, 1871.) Comment is unnecessary.

Among the suggestive utterances of the campaign relative to the merits of the Republican candidate is the following from the New-York World:

> "Gen. Grant's history should teach us to discriminate better than we Americans are apt to do, between glitter and solid work. Our proneness to run after demagogues and spouters may find a wholesome corrective in the study of such a character as his. * * * His career is a lesson in practical democracy; it is a quiet satire on the dandyism, the puppyism, and the shallow affectation of our fashionable exquisites, as well as upon the swagger of our plausible, glib-tongued demagogues."

This extract is none the less worthy of attention because it was written in April, 1865, when the World had no motive for not telling the truth.

We are frequently told by the fervent Reformers of the Democratic Party that Gen. Grant has prostituted the civil service to promote his own election, aided therein by Congress. One fact illustrating the falsity of this charge is that within three years the employes of the Internal Revenue Department have been reduced by Congress, with the co-operation of the President, from 6,277 in number to 2,334, and a still further reduction to 1,167 has been provided for, to take place by Dec. 1 of this year. Is this the way "patronage" is used by ambitious men?

Mr. Ludwig, Presidential Elector on the Greeley ticket for the Seventh District of Missouri, repudiates the concern and withdraws his name. His letter, published this morning, is a terse and conclusive statement of the reasons which compel him to this course.

Mr. Kelley, of Pennsylvania, a gentleman whose reputation as a member of Congress has always been perfectly unstained, gives the defunct Credit Mobilier slander the benefit of another "square denial," which will be found in another column.

Dr. Greeley's Soothing Syrup.

Soothing syrups have sometimes a great vogue, and there are quacks who have managed to amass great fortunes, and build themselves fine houses, by vending them. Sometimes, it may be, they actually do a little good, but they also kill a great many persons, and are certainly not adapted to all constitutions. Now, Mr. Greeley is one of the most artful of men, but it is beyond his power to concoct a mixture which shall be adapted to all political constitutions, and to every section of this vast country. His syrup labeled "Reconciliation" is especially prepared for use in the South; but it is so very different from the other medicines prescribed by the same doctor for that quarter of the country, that the patient is not very likely to be benefited by it. As for the North, it is not intended for use there, and Dr. Greeley would, doubtless, have much preferred to keep the Northern people in ignorance of its ingredients.

Wherever the Democratic candidate went during his recent tour, his song was always the same. The North had been harsh and cruel; the South had submitted to all kinds of wrongs; elect me and I will redress those wrongs, and perhaps arrange even the secession matter to your liking—who knows? That was the underlying current of Mr. Greeley's speeches, and he hoped by saying what he did to conciliate the "Bourbon" Democrats, and win the ultra-Southern vote. It is demagogism of the most dangerous and inexcusable kind, but Mr. Greeley has bound himself to win all or lose all in this contest—his consistency, nay, his honor even, he has already sacrificed; and therefore he will not be turned aside from his path by trifles.

To appeal insidiously to the passions and prejudices of the South, while pretending to be anxious to heal them—to rekindle animosities while talking sweetly about burying them—this was the main object of Mr. Greeley's second stumping tour. He everywhere condoled with the South on the "proscription of its leaders." At Cleveland he said (Sept. 24:)

> "Fellow-citizens, today a part of our countrymen are disfranchised, are denied a voice in the government of this country because they were rebels eight or ten years ago. I think that an unwise proscription. I think that an injurious proscription," &c., &c.

At Louisville he said (Sept. 21:)

> "Is it not time that we desire that no man shall be disfranchised, that no man shall be proscribed, but that every one shall stand on an equal platform with ours?"

At Indianapolis, (Sept. 23:)

> "They say that few are proscribed, but in truth many are proscribed—not few. Whenever it is said that my captain shall be punished for what he and I did, I am punished with him; I feel the blows inflicted on him. The ring that ties him to the dungeon eats into my heart as well as his. No part of that great people who struggled against us in the South now feel that they are entirely pardoned and restored to citizenship so long as their leaders and chiefs in the struggle are punished for a common sin, or error, or whatever it is."

At Louisville, Sept. 23:

> "Men say to me 'why, you don't want to elect Toombs or somebody else, do you?' No, I don't want to elect any of these men, but suppose other people do? Who are you, or who am I, to say whether they shall or not?"

These quotations might be multiplied fourfold, but they are sufficient to denote the tone of Mr. Greeley's argument, and it is an argument which we desire to meet in the most straightforward manner.

In the first place, then, as the World (Greeley paper) has admitted, Southern citizens are not under proscription. Read the World on Greeley's dishonest pretenses:

> "In one aspect amnesty is a very subordinate issue. The Fourteenth Amendment precludes nobody from voting, but only from holding office. Every Southern citizen possesses the right of suffrage as fully as if he had never been in rebellion. The only disability not yet removed is simple disability to hold office, and this weighs only upon a few hundred of the Confederate leaders, most of whom would never be voted for even if there were no legal barrier to their election. In this view amnesty is a minor question. * * * Moreover, the power to remove the disabilities imposed by the Fourteenth Amendment is not vested in the President, but in two-thirds of Congress. Amnesty in this sense does not therefore seem a very pertinent issue in a Presidential election."—New-York World, Editorial, Sept. 26, 1872.

Now, in reference to the rebel leaders who are prohibited from holding office, we say at once and openly that the country has only taken a wise and proper precaution in excluding them from place and power. Mr. Greeley's sentimental talk over the captive chained to his dungeon is a shameful insult to the whole people. There are no prisoners in dungeons. There are no captives in chains. When Mr. Greeley argues that we have no right to keep Jeff. Davis and Toombs out of office, we utterly deny it, and assert that the country would commit a crime against law and order if it allowed these men to take once more leading positions in the country. In any other country but this, Jeff. Davis would have been hanged. We have simply said, "You shall not return to public office; in all other respects you are as free as any one of us." And for this measure—a measure purely of self-defense, not of punishment—Mr. Greeley goes about the country denouncing his fellow-citizens as monsters of cruelty, and crying for peace and reconciliation. He would not put Jeff. Davis back into the Senate, but he would let other people put him there. We say that it would be nothing less than a national crime to allow Davis to be restored to a position from whence he would once more be enabled to strike a traitor's blow at the country. Mr. Greeley, for the sake of winning Southern votes, has advocated a policy which would inevitably, before four years were over, plunge the country once more into anarchy and civil war. He stands committed, by his recent speeches, to the full restoration to political rights and privileges of every rebel leader, from Jeff. Davis downward. To elect him, after his own warnings, would be to invite the gravest disasters which ever befell a people. Unless we want to have our domestic policy dictated by Jeff. Davis, Toombs and the old set of fire-eaters and secessionists, Mr. Greeley's incendiary doctrines must be rebuked at the polls—and we hope a beginning will be made in Pennsylvania, Indiana, and Ohio next week.

The October Elections.

The elections of next Tuesday will be decisive of the Presidential contest should they go against the Democratic Party. Should one or even two out of the four States elect the Democratic State ticket—of which there is no prospect—it would only make the struggle more severe. It could not, if we may trust the unanimous testimony of the best observers, shake the determination of the people to settle at once all disturbing questions by the re-election of the Republican candidate for President. But a concurrent adverse verdict from Pennsylvania, Indiana and Ohio, would be a blow to the Baltimore coalition from which it would be simply impossible for it to recover. We have a right, therefore, to appeal with the utmost earnestness to the Republicans of those States to vote on Tuesday as if the Presidential election depended on them. Such an appeal is now being made in every district, and we trust it will be listened to.

Yet the complications peculiar to State elections make it impossible that the vote on the State ticket alone should be a perfect index of the strength of the parties. Especially is this true in Pennsylvania, where, whatever number of votes may be turned from Hartranft, many of them will still be cast for Grant and Wilson. The Congressional vote in that State, and in the others, will be better evidence of the condition of the popular mind, though even that will not show the full strength of the Republican national ticket.

In regard to Congress, we have already urged on our readers the importance of retaining in that body a majority in sympathy with the steady yet progressive policy of the past four years. On this, nearly as much depends as on the election of the Chief Magistrate. Nor is there anything in the record of the Republican Party that commends it more strongly to the confidence and sympathy of right-minded men in every section of the country, than the course of Congress. This fact should be remembered with reference to the October elections. Whatever important State interests are involved in them, these are narrow compared to the interests affected by the choice of Congressmen. Nor should the vote for members of the House of Representatives be determined solely, or even mainly, by the circumstances peculiar to each district. Each member elected falls inevitably on one or the other side of the party lines. Our party is dependent on its Congressional majority to embody its ideas in legislation, and the most strenuous efforts are making by the opposition to cripple us in this respect. Every doubtful district, every district where personal feeling or local difficulties have intervened is being "worked" with the utmost energy by our opponents. The journals of that party are, moreover, doing everything they can to break down the general reputation of the party in Congress, in hopes to produce distrust or doubt and indifference in the Congressional contests.

We call on all Republicans to oppose these schemes with determination. Our Congress has dealt well with the country. It has provided the necessary laws for the reconstruction of the Southern States on really republican principles. It has firmly insisted on the requirements of those laws. It has fully met the popular demand for wise magnanimity toward the South. It has steadily reduced taxation, and that with a steadfastness and discrimination which, in the face of the great difficulties surrounding the subject, have been highly creditable. It has shown itself capable of generous encouragement to great internal improvements, and it has known when this policy had reached its proper limits. In what it has done and refused to do, it has, in the main, deserved popular approval.

We appeal to every Republican in the States of Ohio, Pennsylvania, Indiana, and Nebraska to consider these facts, and to do his part toward strengthening the hands of his party in the most important branch of the National Government.

The Italian Opera.

Time was when a second-rate prima donna, weighted by incompetent tenors, baritones, and bassos, and still further fettered with a feeble orchestra of twenty-five pieces, and a chorus so wretched in quality that its weakness in numbers was a thing for which to give thanks, was permitted to murder grand opera in this City. Such were the surroundings of Italian opera in the days when that respectable person and preposterous singer Parodi was presented to us as a lyric star of the first magnitude, and when Jenny Lind bid successfully for public favor by announcing that she would never again degrade her genius to the service of opera. The progress that has been made in the presentation of this doubtful entertainment, since that day, has been slow but sure. Managers have found that one singer alone does not constitute a company, and that an orchestra large enough to furnish the incidental music of an English melodrama, is not capable of interpreting the instrumental score of Meyerbeer's, or even of Verdi's or Petrella's operas. Last season we heard, at the Academy, not merely a prima donna, but a really good company, and an orchestra satisfactory at least in point of numbers, while the season that opened so brilliantly last evening promises to be in all respects the most meritorious that we have yet had.

The manager who this season offers to opera-goers two such eminent prima donnas as Lucca and Kellogg, is fully aware that the principal effort of two enterprising but unassisted swallows to manufacture a Spring, is an easy task compared with that of the manager who should now hope to make an operatic Winter with the aid of even the two best prima donnas living, unsupported by a proper company. He has, therefore, if his preliminary trumpeting prove truthful, engaged artists of reputation and merit to fill the lesser male and female parts of the operas which he proposes to present. His orchestra is large enough to do its work thoroughly, and his chorus, which has been imported from Europe, without regard to the feelings of those venerable persons who have constituted the chorus of the Academy since it was first built, and who have grown more bossy and less tuneful year by year, is numerous and efficient. So far as the music of the entertainment which he offers is concerned, there is reason to believe that it will be worthily rendered. There is, moreover, a promise of new scenery, but it is probable that we shall have to wait yet a little longer for an operatic mise en scène, comparable with those of the leading opera-houses of Europe.

That the public is abundantly willing to support a manager whenever he offers them what can honestly be considered as their money's worth, is shown by the readiness with which it has subscribed for the present series of operatic representations. The boxes for Monday night were all sold in advance of the opening of the doors, and seats in the rest of the house were at a premium. The public, admiring Kellogg, whom it had seen, and believing, through faith, in Lucca, whom it had not seen, subscribed for the operatic season, not alone in order to hear these artists, but because it believed that they were to be surrounded by other artists, and sustained by a chorus and an orchestra, by the joint efforts of whom the "Africaine," with its elaborate concerted music and its superb instrumentation, would be rendered with the same excellence as the "Traviata," with its delicious soprano and tenor solos, and their meagre orchestral accompaniments in Verdi's inevitable six-four time.

At It Again.

On Friday last the Tribune made the following statement in its editorial columns: That during our attacks upon the Tammany Ring, the Publisher of this paper wrote a letter to his "dear Hall," offering to suppress all proofs of the Ring frauds upon payment of sixteen thousand dollars.

Any man with a grain of sense must have seen that this story was one of the wildest inventions of a reckless slanderer, for at the time the letter in question was said to have been written, we were pressing Hall and his friends very hard—they were threatening us with actions of ejectment and all sorts of penalties—and they would, if such a letter had been in their possession, have certainly done one of two things: either paid the money or published the letter. Is it likely that they would have allowed us to ruin them, while they held the means of ruining us in their hands? A man must be an idiot to think so.

Still, some people do not reflect, and for the benefit of such we at once brought Mr. Greeley's temporary successor to a check, by offering to pay over twenty thousand dollars to any City charity upon the production of the letter stated by the Tribune to have been written, or of any letter similar in purpose or effect. We knew perfectly well what the result would be. Mr. Greeley's temporary successor says not a word more on the subject—does not even repeat his stale dodge of being shocked at the idea of a "bet"—and we add one more to the list of wanton slanders we have already recorded against him.

But he sets to work in a new field, as a matter of course. He publishes a hysterical sort of article, in which he says that the Times has abused Gov. Curtin, and appeals in his womanish way for sympathy for the ill-used gentleman. Now we believe it is generally understood that when we represent a newspaper as saying so and so, we mean that the editorial columns of the paper say so—and this is a rule of which a lecturer on journalism, a man who undertakes to lecture every journalist in the United States concerning the duties and obligations of his craft, cannot or ought not to be ignorant. Yet Mr. Greeley's successor is constantly in the habit of taking a passage from the letter of a correspondent, and quoting it as from the editorial utterances of the paper. Now, we are in the habit of choosing good correspondents for our work—the gentlemen we have sent to Ohio, Indiana and Pennsylvania, for instance, are among the oldest and most experienced writers on the paper—and leaving much to their discretion. They tell us faithfully what they see and hear, and we do not garble their letters. But we are not prepared to have what they report put into our mouths as coming from us. Some of our correspondents report that Gov. Curtin has lost many friends in Pennsylvania by his course, a fact which Gov. Curtin has himself admitted. These passages from our correspondents' letters are taken out and quoted as if they formed part of our editorial columns—the deliberate utterances of the Times. We think most of our professional brethren will agree with us in describing this trick as an exceedingly dishonest one, and it is not the less reprehensible because it is committed by a man who has tried to persuade the University of New-York to found a "Professorship of Journalism," with himself as the Professor, and who assumes to lecture and instruct every other member of his calling. Our readers can attest that the Times has never spoken of Gov. Curtin in words of disrespect or incivility, and it is a silly fraud to quote the reports of its correspondents as the opinions of the paper.

The Acquittal of Mrs. Fair.

"Mrs. Laura Fair is a very remarkable woman—very remarkable people are becoming scarce, therefore it would be a pity to hang Mrs. Fair." This seems to have been about the line of argument which conducted a marvelously ignorant San Francisco jury to the extraordinary verdict of acquittal which turns loose upon society a woman who has outraged nearly all the fundamental principles on which society rests. The case was simple enough, in all conscience. Mrs. Fair was a woman of indifferent antecedents; she had been three times divorced, and had attempted to shoot her partner in a boarding-house which she kept at Virginia City in 1864. She was tried for this crime and acquitted. The counsel who defended her on that occasion was Mr. A. P. Crittenden, a middle-aged San Francisco lawyer of some eminence. The acquaintance of lawyer and client ripened into criminal intercourse, and in 1870 Mrs. Fair was known to San Francisco society as the mistress of Mr. Crittenden. By this time, however, the lawyer, who was married and had a family, was beginning to tire of his paramour, and endeavored to get rid of her. Mrs. Fair, whose ideas of the marriage vow were elastic enough, declined to accept the doctrine that an illicit connection could be terminated at the pleasure of either party. Failing to induce Mr. Crittenden to take this view of the matter, she quietly waited for him on board of a passenger steamer, watched the moment when he was quietly seated between his wife and daughter, presented a pistol to his breast, and shot him to the heart.

The shooting was not denied, nor was it possible to bring any evidence to prove that it was done as a measure of self-defense. Mrs. Fair acted crazy, with some little success, after the fatal occurrence, and when her trial took place, in April, 1871, her counsel chiefly rested the defense upon Mrs. Fair's alleged susceptibility to spasmodic fits of insanity. Her doctor said she had "several delusions, some permanent, some periodic." This trial lasted about four weeks, and was remarkable in several respects. Partly for the extraordinary doctrines put forward by the defense in regard to a woman's right to take, under certain circumstances, the last revenge upon her partner in guilt. Partly also for the morbid enthusiasm in favor of Mrs. Fair, which was professed by certain women who persisted in thinking that she was somehow a martyr to the cause of equal social rights. In San Francisco, the verdict, which was that of murder in the first degree, was thought most remarkable of all, for from the huge amount of irrelevant matter which had been forced upon the attention of the jury, a disagreement was generally expected. The Press of the Pacific Slope unanimously indorsed the verdict, and San Francisco was congratulated "on the vindication of law, justice, morality and decency in the result of the trial."

About forty exceptions were taken to the ruling of the Court, and the familiar machinery of appeals, stay of proceedings, &c., was put in operation. Mrs. Fair was, at first, denied a new trial, and was sentenced to be hanged on July 28, 1871, but has, through various judicial mutations which need not be here detailed, been spared to be tried by the most ignorant jury of her countrymen that could be obtained, and to be finally acquitted. Whatever were the grounds on which this verdict was arrived at, the result is nothing less than a most ridiculous and shameful miscarriage of justice.

MINOR TOPICS.

"The indictment of Mr. Laflin for perjury," a theme upon which the howling dervish of the Tribune is now shrieking in his highest key, failed simply because Mr. Laflin was innocent, and not the slightest evidence could be offered to show that he was not. This, however, by no means satisfied the Professor. He admits that "the indictment for perjury broke down through the absence of witnesses;" but that fact, in his opinion, proves nothing. He has probably never noticed the singular fact that when innocent persons are charged with the commission of crimes, and are triumphantly acquitted, their acquittal is due to the "absence of witnesses" to prove the charge. Gen. Kilpatrick's attempt to indict the editor of the Times broke down from the same trifling cause; and were the Professor to be accused of infanticide, or any other crime of which it would be absurd to suppose him guilty, his innocence would doubtless be proved by the absence of any witnesses on behalf of the people. There was, the Professor admits, no evidence offered to prove Mr. Laflin a perjurer. Therefore, he must have been guilty! This is the sort of reasoning which is now-a-days offered to the remaining readers of the Tribune.

A great lady is credited with having made the remark that she wondered why the Parisians clamored for bread when they could buy such nice little cakes for six sous each. And now a London paper suggests that the outcry in England on the high price of beef is needless, so long as green turtle-soup is in the market. Thus does history repeat itself. However, it is only fair to say that the London News, in proposing to substitute turtle-soup for roast beef, undertakes to show that the former can be supplied to the London market at very low prices. There are millions of turtles in Brazil, remarks that journal, and all that it is necessary to do to make turtle plentiful in London, is to import turtle-flesh, packed in air-tight cans. So, too, it might be said, that champagne might be made as plentiful in England as it now is in the Champagne district, by bringing the whole annual vintage to London. To feed the London poor on turtle-soup and champagne would be a nice programme for Mr. Odger or Mr. Bradlaugh to offer to their followers, but it is open to the objection that neither the one nor the other can be imported without some slight expense; and, in the case of turtle, it is probable that turtle-flesh imported from Brazil would not materially lessen the present cost of turtle-soup.

Formerly all the great routes leading to Paris were lined, in the vicinity of the city at least, with avenues of trees. The war and a fatal disease which, some years ago, devastated timber in the district, made very serious gaps. The tree sickness has been especially apparent on the road to Vincennes, Versailles, and what was formerly known as the Italian Wood. Many of these trees were centuries old. Although Charlemagne was, after the Romans, the first French road constructor, the systematic organization and repair of these roads dates from Philip Augustus, and the first regular plantations along them from the reign of Henry IV. Trees are now to be planted again. The example of France, in this respect, might be followed with much advantage here. Who has not admired the broad avenue formed by magnificent elms in a Connecticut village? What a glorious Summer driving-ground would be formed by a few miles of such planting in a township.

The Cologne Gazette lately published some curious statistics relative to the "difficulties" between married couples, and the attempts to conciliate the same made by the "Councils of Arbitration," composed of Protestant clergymen, in the eight oldest of those provinces which form the Kingdom of Prussia. The number of married who found themselves requiring an arbitrator to settle their differences for them, was, in 1871, 6,676, being 235 more than in 1870. Of these, no fewer than 2,644 were in the Province of Brandenburg, in which Berlin is situated. The mediators were successful with 2,527 couples. At Berlin 240 households were set to rights; 250 of the couples who came before this curious tribunal in 1870 reappeared in 1871. Let the unmarried consider these things.

The National Temperance Advocate for October reviews the charges against Gen. Grant's personal habits, and the testimony refuting them, and announces its entire disbelief in them. The same paper expresses the opinion that temperance men can find nothing in the Republican Party to prevent their supporting it.

We have received a letter from Brussels, Belgium, inclosing $10 as a contribution for the Children's Fund, from Master John Warren Stearns, of Washington; also, $5 from L. A. B., of this City. We also take this opportunity of acknowledging a contribution of $79 20 in the shape of printing done by Messrs. Wynkoop & Hallenbeck for the Fund.

OUTLOOK FROM THE CAPITAL.

Review of the Probabilities for October—Reports from the Three Fields.

Special Dispatch to the New-York Times.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 30.—The outlook as seen from this point is of an encouraging character for Republican success in the elections on the 8th of October. Trustworthy information from Pennsylvania, Indiana and Ohio give the assurance of a complete victory, all the Liberal boasts to the contrary notwithstanding.

Advices from Pennsylvania indicate the election of Gen. Hartranft by a majority somewhat less than that which the balance of the ticket will undoubtedly obtain. One of the best-informed politicians in the State writes to a high official here that he finds no doubt existing among Republicans that we shall carry the State for Hartranft. The organization is everywhere good, and in many places splendid, and our majority cannot be less than twelve thousand. The accounts from Ohio and Indiana grow brighter and brighter every day, from the former State particularly. These figures and speculations are sustained by Hon. Wm. E. Chandler, Secretary of the National Committee, who arrived here this morning. He is of the opinion that we shall get such a majority in Pennsylvania, outside of Philadelphia, that Hartranft's election is certain and a majority on the balance of the ticket of from 15,000 to 20,000. So far as Indiana is concerned, he believes that Hendricks will be defeated by a majority averaging from 2,000 to 5,000, and is very confident that the work which will be undoubtedly done in Ohio from now until the day of election will give us that State by a majority greater than Republicans generally now dare to hope for. The political prospect, according to all the data in the possession of those in this city who ought to know, is at the present time more encouraging for Republican victories all around than it has been at any period since the campaign began.

The Bogus Medical Diploma Vender and Political Reformer Confronted by Yerkes' Genuine Affidavit—McClure an Applicant for Yerkes' Release.

Special Dispatch to the New-York Times.

Pittsburg, Penn., Sept. 30.—Dr. Paine, peddler of bogus medical diplomas, and coadjutor of Aleck McClure in the crusade against Gen. Hartranft, came here last week in the employ of the Democracy to display his photographs of the bogus Yerkes affidavits, and advocate the election of Buckalew. The publication this morning in the Commercial of Yerkes' statement, and open denunciation of Paine by Hon. H. B. Swope as a forger, thief and scoundrel, caused the model advocate of reform to leave suddenly for Ohio, "rumor has it," with the Democracy thoroughly sick of him. McClure, it now turns out, was one of the applicants for Yerkes' pardon, and his signature can be seen attached to the document.

Democrats Proclaiming Their Own Defeat—Inventing a Pretext for Challenging Colored Voters—Suspicious Attitude of Gov. Curtin.

Special Dispatch to the New-York Times.

Harrisburg, Penn., Sept. 30.—Within a day or two McClure's organs in this State have been screaming in a high key that the Republicans were importing negroes from Washington, Maryland and Virginia into the southern counties to vote for Hartranft. No attention has been given to this cry, because it was supposed to be no more than a prelude to the grand sorehead death-song when the election is over—a kind of acknowledgment of defeat, and a preliminary excuse for it. It now appears to have been struck up for another purpose, and the Republicans of the State have need to take warning and be vigilant. The cry has been raised to divert attention from a colonization scheme gotten up by the virtuous McClure to affect the majorities in some of the northern counties. It is discovered that in McKean County there has been a considerable fraudulent registry of names, on which votes are to be cast by political "Hessians" from New-York. There is reason to believe that this scheme has been put in operation, to some extent, along the whole northern line. There is no occasion for Republicans to feel any alarm about it, for they can easily prevent its success by close watching for strangers at the polls.

The story about the colonization of blacks, however, gives excuse for another kind of mean business, which comes near being dishonest, if it is not quite. In this city, and probably throughout the State, the Democratic committees are making arrangements to challenge the vote of every colored man who comes to the polls, and force him to bring witnesses, as required by law, before he can vote. But the Republicans, knowing this, can have the necessary papers at hand, and the challengers will do no other harm than to cause a slight annoyance.

There is continued discussion of Curtin's position here, but no changes politically on account of it. What is wanted now is to know whether he is for Grant or Greeley. A Republican politician, whose acuteness is well known, says that if Hartranft is beaten Curtin will come out for Greeley, but if Hartranft is elected he will come out for Grant. This is just the reverse of what the Republicans want. If Hartranft by any misfortune should be beaten, Curtin's services for Grant would be acceptable, but if Hartranft is elected it makes little difference whether Curtin is on one side or the other in the national contest. It is freely charged, however, whether truly or not, that Curtin is trying to lead his friends, who are also friends of the President, to believe he adheres to the Republican National ticket, in order that he may have more influence in leading some of them to vote against Hartranft, and that such is the reason he does not commit himself on national questions. If that be his design, the prospects of success cannot thus far give him much encouragement.

ADAMS ON GRANT.

The Cincinnati Farce Repudiated by an Original "Liberal."

Speech of Charles Francis Adams, Jr., at Quincy, Mass.—Interesting Review of National Affairs—Why Everybody Should Vote for Gen. Grant.

Special Dispatch to the New-York Times.

QUINCY, Mass., Sept. 30.—A large meeting was held in this place to-night, which was addressed by Charles Francis Adams, Jr., (brother of John Quincy Adams, the Straight-out Democratic candidate for Vice-President.) I send you the main points of his remarks, which were well received.

MR. ADAMS' ADDRESS.

The great Dr. Samuel Johnson, in approaching some matter of discussion, once advised his faithful Boswell to "clear his mind of cant." This, my fellow-citizens of Quincy, I propose, with your kind indulgence, to do for myself on the present occasion. And in one respect, at least, the canvass now going on affords matter for sincere congratulation. Much of it as there is, there is yet far less discreditable electioneering cant about it than at one time there seemed cause to apprehend. A few weeks ago I accidentally came across an old volume of political pamphlets relating to the election of 1840—the famous "log cabin and hard-cider" campaign of "Tippecanoe and Tyler too"—that ideal year for the believers in "tidal waves" and "prairie fires," in which, through the grace of God, John Tyler was chosen to preside over the destinies of this people for the space of three years and eleven months. It was singular reading, though somewhat melancholy withal, and I closed the volume with, to state it mildly, small admiration for tidal waves and prairie fires when viewed through a perspective of thirty years. Early in the present Summer another hard-cider dispensation seemed impending over us in the shape of a white-hat and wood-chopper campaign; and it was only as the season advanced that it became evident that the professionals in charge of that novelty had dreadfully underestimated the intelligence of those "masses," of whom they thought so much; and the feeble nutriment which sufficed for 1840 was a pronounced failure in 1872. We may not, as a people, even yet have reached the full height of calm political debate, but we are out of our swaddling clothes, and the childish appeals which once excited an odd enthusiasm have this year been distinctly productive only of laughter and disgust. As you well know, I am not a politician, but it is not unknown to some of you that, in my own way, I was concerned in the movement which resulted in the Cincinnati Convention of May last, and, having been actively engaged in that movement from its first inception, I have been most anxious for some suitable public occasion on which I might put on record my reasons for refusing to abide by its result, and for giving my vote against the candidate of that Convention, Mr. Greeley, and in favor of the opposing candidate, Gen. Grant.

I was not then, nor am I now, a believer in an irredeemable paper currency, and I regarded a nation, as rich and prosperous as this, and which nevertheless does not pay its notes, much as I regard a business man who can pay and don't. I was, and am, also, a firm believer in the necessity of an immediate and thorough reform and purification of our whole civil service system. I detest and despise the theory that the offices of Government are the legitimate booty of each political victory, and I felt and still feel that the recognition of such a rule is wholly inconsistent with a continued political purity. Certain men met together at Washington and subsequently in New-York—editors, economists, politicians and men of business—few in number, being not more than fifteen or twenty in all, but wielding an enormous power through the Press. We were all of one mind. Political managers and aspirants for office were very civil and profuse in expressions of sympathy with us in private, but very shy of us in public. Nearly two years ago I drew up with my own hand the original draft of a resolution calling a convention of those sympathizing in our views to meet at Cincinnati. This was not, however, the nominating convention of May last—that subsequently grew out of it.

So far as President Grant himself was concerned, I personally entertained but one sentiment—that of intense and bitter disappointment at what I still consider his great failure as a civil administrator. He was my old General; and as such I felt toward him not as you feel, but as those only feel who have passed through long days and nights of battle agony, looking to one man in firm reliance that he carried with him ultimate victory, and in the end have found that faith justified. And let me further say that I, in common with a vast multitude of others, have had my admiration and sympathy deeply excited by the grand silence with which the President has undergone the vile torrent of contradictory calumny which has so persistently been poured forth against him. Gen. Grant cannot at once be both the wretched imbecile and the cunning usurper he is so commonly described by the same lips, and I can assure those now so indiscreetly assailing him that they are guilty of a grave error of judgment if they fondly believe that the men who stood by him while lead was in the air will be driven from his side by the hurtling of hard words. Whichever party is successful this year the vile scandal known as "carpet-bagism" is doomed, and the States lately in rebellion are sure at last of being left to themselves. The only contingency, so far as I can forecast the future, which can endanger this much-to-be-desired result, would be the election of Mr. Greeley. That might possibly, by inviting new disturbances, reopen the whole question. In such an event Mr. Greeley is, judging by his own utterances in the past in relation to the justice and propriety of secession and force bills, scarcely the man I should care to see intrusted with the delicate duty of readjustment. I was one of those who met our Southern brethren on a number of hard-fought fields. Seven years ago, when Gen. Grant paroled Lee's army, I "clasped hands across the bloody chasm," and from that day to this have entertained only the kindest feelings toward my old enemies. I really can't, at this late day, see the necessity for any more tears or hysterics. The question of reconstruction is now practically decided, and its gross abuses, which in my place I have never hesitated to denounce, are at last repudiated of all men. The Southern States now need above all things to be carefully let alone, but Mr. Greeley and his supporters insist on more agitation. In this miserable work I, for one, will not abet them. I am, indeed, opposed to them upon this issue more than upon any other, and as a friend and well-wisher of the South—earnestly hoping to see it work out its own salvation quietly and peaceably—I feel I could not too strongly deprecate the substitution at this time of Mr. Greeley for Gen. Grant in the Presidential chair. It would be chaos come again, which heaven forbid!

In regard to the new questions, however—the questions of the future—I long ago found myself at variance with the ruling powers in the Republican organization. In place of an intelligent appreciation of the great principles of local self-government, we had a code of force-bills and civil-rights bills and legislative meddling in general, a policy of which Mr. Senator Sumner and the New-York Tribune were two of the most earnest advocates, and which was redeemed from utter badness only by the marked good sense and judgment with which the President exercised the dangerous powers intrusted to him.

I thus found myself in opposition to all my previous political affiliations, and in hearty accord with the Cincinnati movement. At the last moment, and at the time, to my own great regret, I felt compelled to withdraw my name from the call to which I had already signed it, and to notify my friends that I could not be at Cincinnati. The unexpected prominence which was so suddenly given to Mr. C. F. Adams as a candidate before that Convention forced me to the conclusion that I could not go to it without placing both him and myself in a false position. Accordingly I stayed at home, and very glad I now am that I did stay at home.

As you all know, the Cincinnati Convention—the Convention which originated in the movement for free-trade, civil service reform, and the protest against all centralizing legislation, nominated Mr. Horace Greeley as its candidate for the Presidency. In due time the Democratic Party, in convention duly assembled, ratified this nomination. I have nothing to say against Mr. Greeley personally. He has achieved marked success in his special calling; he has done a great work in life; he has exercised a prodigious influence. I have, however, rarely had the satisfaction of agreeing with him, and have ever entertained a peculiar and, perhaps, exaggerated lack of confidence in his practical judgment and administrative ability. To use a vulgar but expressive phrase, he "slops over" too frequently—a peculiarity which he has not succeeded in holding in check during the course of the present canvass. Mr. Greeley's views upon every single question in which the Cincinnati movement originated are, and always have been, diametrically opposed to that movement. To force him upon us as our candidate was therefore an absolute insult, redeemed only by its humorous features, which, however keenly we might appreciate them, we could hardly be expected to enjoy. We went to Cincinnati in open revolt against the party manipulations of Messrs. Conkling, and Cameron, and Morton, and Chandler; when we got there we were met by Messrs. Fenton, and Cochrane, and McClure, and Wentworth, and Tilton, and Warmoth, and they, with the aid of Mr. Frank Blair, kindly proceeded to "manage" things for us in the good old way, and, in the first place, to provide us with a candidate. I do not see how we gained greatly by this change of masters; for myself I prefer the old set. We went protesting against "carpet-bagism," and they "carpet-bagged" our Convention with an ingenuity which excited even our rueful admiration. We went calling for free-trade, and they gave us the most notorious and consistent protectionist in all America. We went crying out against centralization, and saying "the world is governed too much," and we came back with the great apostle of unlimited legislation on all conceivable subjects for our chosen candidate. They not only insisted on our accepting an empty change in lieu of the improvement to which we had aspired, but they actually carried their undisguised contempt for us as Reformers to the extent of openly asking us to go into contortions of supposed ecstasy over their ridiculous campaign "Josh," made up, like a scare-crow, of a dilapidated hat and shabby coat.

We believe in our principles as free-traders, as civil service reformers, as friends of local self-government; we propose also to continue to believe, and, if we can, we further propose to make the belief that is in us respected of others. We feel very much now, under the candidacy of Mr. Greeley, as we should have felt in 1860 had the "unterrified" assumed control of the Chicago Convention, referred the question of slavery to the several Congressional districts, nominated for us Mr. Jefferson Davis, and then rolled up their eyes in a spirit of sanctity and assured us that some garment of our candidate covered physical conformations of surprising beauty and excellence.

There is but one thing we cannot suffer and live under; that is dishonor, made more unendurable because ridiculous. With what hope or even face could we, during the rest of our lives, go "reforming" again, when once we had allowed ourselves to be made such very stool-pigeons of with impunity, and even actually assisted those who cozened us in the successful prosecution of their game. We may not be successful politicians, but we can at least try to be honest men.

Meanwhile, for a long time past, and especially during the present campaign, I have acted in close sympathy with the class whose feelings now find vigorous expressions through the columns of the New-York Evening Post and the Nation—a class insignificant in numbers only, and one not safely to be disregarded. We and our principles have in this matter been brutally and grievously insulted, and we propose to show that we are not disposed to be accessories to our own dishonor. We at least never invited Mr. Greeley and his singular following into any party affiliations—we always protested against it; and, from their first introduction, looked upon our uninviting associates with undisguised apprehension. Those who brought about the alliance are, perhaps, bound by the principles of what is called political honor not to repudiate the consequence of their own act; they made the game and they lost the stakes; we, however, are not disposed to allow ourselves to be transferred as a portion of the contents of that "pool."

The defeat of Mr. Greeley has, therefore, become from our point of view the one good thing which can result from this campaign. His success would be our complete discomfiture. It would go far to demonstrate what we have most persistently denied, and the denial of which was at the basis of the original Cincinnati movement. We then insisted, as we still do insist, that the people of this country were a body of which we ourselves were part; that the mass of our fellow-citizens disliked to be humbugged, and liked to be treated as rational beings, just as we did ourselves—no more and no less.

The thing seems altogether too ridiculous to be gravely stated, and yet it is absolutely true. Mr. Greeley's nomination was wholly and avowedly urged and justified on the "white hat," "tidal wave" and "prairie fire" hypothesis; the "bloody chasm" melodrama was a somewhat flimsy after-piece, introduced to cover up the awful failure of the great original "wood-chopper" farce. The defeat of Mr. Greeley will go far to convince the "men inside politics" that things utterly incongruous cannot as yet be successfully lumped together, that the rise of "tidal waves" and "prairie fires" has some connection with a real underlying cause, that the people, of whom they prate so much and think so little, are not mere children to be pleased with a rattle and tickled with a straw, and, finally, that the cast-off garments of an eminent editor are, after all, but a poor substitute for cardinal principles.

At one time I freely confess I hoped for more than this—far more—as the result of the present canvass. I did hope that great principles might be gravely discussed, and that much progress might be made, no matter what party achieved success in the grand work of educating a nation. In common with many others, I was disappointed; but, if I cannot have the issue I wanted, I must needs accept that which is forced upon us. It is for this canvass simply to show that we are neither children nor fools. For one, therefore, I shall this year again cast my vote for President Grant, not, alas! this time with the gladconfidence in which, four years ago, I cast it for Gen. Grant; but as the most direct and, indeed only way left open of rebuking that species of political cant and chicanery of which the history of the Cincinnati movement was, in its last stage, an unequaled example.

Congressional Nomination in the Third (Boston) District—Hon. Wm. Whiting Nominated.

Special Dispatch to the New-York Times.

BOSTON, Sept. 30.—The Third Congressional District Republican Convention was held here today. This District is entirely within the limits of the City of Boston. It embraces the upper wards of the old city, and the territory of Roxbury and Dorchester, joined at a comparatively recent date to the municipality. The territory was for the most part in Twitchell's old district.

At the Convention full delegations were present, and there was the utmost harmony. An informal ballot, taken immediately after the completion of the organization, resulted as follows; Hon. Wm. Whiting, 40; Henry L. Pierce, 16. The friends of Mr. Pierce then withdrew his name, and the formal nomination of Mr. Whiting was made unanimously. On the question of the nomination of a Presidential Elector there was some discussion, the contest being between the friends of Mr. Edward W. Kinsley and Mr. Alvah Simonds. On a ballot, the latter receiving 33 votes against 21 for the former, was successful.

A committee was sent out to conduct Mr. Whiting to the Hall. On his appearance he was greeted with applause. He made a brief speech, returning his thanks for the honor of the nomination, and pledging to do his utmost to properly perform the duties of his office, if elected, and to sustain the principles of the Republican Party.

Mr. Whiting is an able lawyer, and is intimately connected with the recent legislation bearing upon public questions still in controversy. He has written considerably in constitutional law, and during the rebellion was an authority on knotty legal question. He is a resident of the Highland District.

Twitchell received at the last election in the old district composed of Brookline, Medford, five Boston wards, and the wards in the new district, with the exception of Ward Sixteen, 6,233 votes against 5,640 for Gaston, Democrat, and 266 for Cushing, prohibitionist. The new district will make as good a record for Republicanism.

The Convention in the Worcester District takes place to-morrow. The indications are that Ex-Attorney-General Hoar will get the nomination over Dr. Ayer, the patent-pill manufacturer.

INDIANA.

Favorable Reports from All Parts of the State—Basis of Democratic Hopes

Special Dispatch to the New-York Times.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Sept. 30.—The reports from every portion of the State continue favorable. All the meetings of today have been large and enthusiastic, showing the party to be still hard at work for victory. The accounts this evening from the First District are better than heretofore, and indicate the defeat of Niblack for Congress by Heilman, Republican, to be certain. The prospects for the defeat of Voorhees in the Sixth District continue to improve. Looking over the whole field to-night it is impossible to see how the Republicans can fail to have more than 3,000 majority on the State ticket, except by such stupendous frauds as the Democrats will not be permitted to commit. The Democrats still assume to be confident of success, and claim all sorts of impossible majorities, just as they do on the eve of every election in this State. So far as is known their confidence is based on their expectation of committing frauds by the use of money and on the existence of multitudes of soreheads, whom nobody can find. The Republicans are not even disturbed by these Democratic boasts, but are working with might and main only to make the victory of which they are sure grander and more decisive.

Funeral of the Late Dr. Vinton.

The funeral of the late Dr. Vinton, pastor of Trinity Church, who died at his residence, No. 27 Grace-court, Brooklyn, Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock, will take place at 1½ o'clock to-morrow afternoon from Trinity Church. The services will be under the direction of the rector, Dr. Dix. All the clergy of the parish, including St. Paul's, St. John's, St. Chrysostom's, St. Augustine's and Trinity Churches, will assist. Rev. Dr. Forbes, Dean of the Theological Seminary, will be one of the pall-bearers. The choir will perform Croft's funeral service, under the direction of Mr. Messiter, the organist. There will be a full choir of twenty-five voices. At the conclusion of the services the remains will be taken to Newport and interred in the family vault.

Contagious Diseases.

Dr. E. H. Janes, City Sanitary Inspector, furnishes the following comparative statement of contagious diseases for the past two weeks:

Week ending Sept. 21.—Typhus fever, 5; typhoid fever, 15; scarlet fever, 16; relapsing fever, 0; measles, 10; diphtheria, 24; small-pox, 3.

Week ending Sept. 28.—Typhus fever, 2; typhoid fever, 25; scarlet fever, 16; relapsing, 1; measles, 0; diphtheria, 13; small-pox, 1.

Increase.—Typhoid fever, 10; relapsing, 1.

Decrease.—Typhus fever, 3; diphtheria, 11; small-pox, 2.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC—OPENING OF THE OPERATIC SEASON.

A great throng filled and overflowed the Academy last night, to grace the beginning of the operatic season. The weather was auspicious, and all things conspired to lend lively interest to the occasion. The opening night of Italian opera in New-York is always attended with eagerness, even when indifferent attractions and well-grounded fear of the recurrence of previous disappointments tend to discourage the strong liking of our people for this elegant amusement. But there was pretty good assurance this time of things worth hearing and seeing, and the general belief that higher and more substantial standards were to be arrived at in all departments of the opera inspired hope and confidence. "L'Africaine," truly, has been found heavy in New-York, yet as truly the work, exigent and difficult as it is, has never before been fairly done here; while to the rôle of the heroine in this representation were understood to be brought the commanding talents of an artist of the first rank, and acknowledged as such by the most critical audiences of Europe; the powers of a tenor reported to be of high promise; singers of excellent repute in the other parts; and an ensemble in the way of instruments, choristers, and scenes worthy of the composer of Gli Ugonotti. When to these elements of probable success, were added a clean and freshly-decorated house, and—if last not least—the popular regard for the clever and widely-known manager, Mr. Max Maretzek, there was certainly enough last night to warrant the pleased expectancy with which the brilliant audience assembled, no less than the great number and intelligent character of the persons of which it was composed. That the fashionable part of the year is at hand, was shown by many well-known faces, and the culture and intelligence of the Metropolis were likewise amply represented.

Our notice sets forth, it must be admitted, with more of approval than the performance did. The curtain fell on the first act with scarcely a hand. At the end of the second act Mme. Lucca and her companions were called three times before the curtain. The third act was tolerated but hardly relished by the audience. And yet in subsequent portions real enthusiasm was created. The reasons for these apparent anomalies are obvious. In the first place, an immensely crowded house looked for something very much out of the common way, which, indeed, they were to have, but not so soon as was expected. Secondly, "L'Africaine," an immensely difficult and complicated work, undoubtedly is heavy, and comparatively uninteresting in its earlier portions. And, finally, the better passages of Selika's music, and her most striking situations, come near the close of the opera. The cast of "L'Africaine," last night, was almost entirely strange to the New-York public, and the opera was likewise to many hearers unfamiliar; facts which may further be cited as reasons for a reception, equivocal certainly at times, and yet ending in a veritable triumph. The distribution included Mme. Lucca as Selika, Mme. Leoni Levielli as Ines, Signor Abrugnedo as Vasco di Gama, Signor Moriami as Nelusko, and Signor Jamet as Don Pedro.

Mme. Lucca is undeniably a lyric artist of noble and captivating ability. That she possesses a voice of singular richness, flexibility and capacity for the suggestion of passion, the many among us who read current musical literature were well aware. We imagine, however, that fewer have been prepared for the histrionic grasp, unity and pathos of Mme. Lucca's Selika, which must, in every way, be set down as one of the grandest lyric performances now anywhere to be seen. The artist very little to do in the first act—scarcely anything beyond the explanatory phrase, beginning "Fatti fummo prigioni," but Mme. Lucca's vocal qualities were early enjoyed in the "In Grembo a me," which opens act second, and further appreciated in passages succeeding. Her supreme effort is, as might be expected, in the "Scene du Mancenillier," at the close. From the solemn opening "Da qui io vedo" until the "No! è il piacer," Mme. Lucca's performance is conceived and executed in the loftiest style of art, and makes intelligible at once the reputation she has gained in this particular scena abroad. The melody and charm of the singer's vocal resources are acknowledged, of course; of these much can be said in admiring recognition without stumbling upon hyperbole. But it is by virtue of her lyric power, her strength as an actress, that Mme. Lucca takes exceptional, and even unique, rank. Her passion, grace, and mobility find excellent scope in the tropical Selika. By these qualities she attacks our sympathies and takes them willing captives. The touching pathos, the wounded pride, the ineffable, yet humiliated, love, and the mournful end of the unhappy Queen, are rendered by her with a tragic force and an imaginative versatility that amount to genius. There is here genuine emotional inspiration, the power not to be compassed by art alone, the electricity unattainable even by high mental capacity, the faculty, rare as it is, which is yet indispensable to real dramatic triumph.

Signor Abrugnedo, the new tenor, strikes on a first hearing as a true and honest singer, and one who will make himself a favorite here. He sang more effectively toward the end than at first. That he did not altogether create a furore last night may be partly imputed to causes already recited. The paucity of flowing and "catchable" melodies in the score and the solicitude of a first appearance each doubtless had their share in the result; and this may be said in a modified degree of the new baritone, Signor Moriami, who, we also think, will improve greatly on acquaintance, and of whom, as of Signor Abrugnedo, we prefer to speak more at length on further hearing. Mme. Levielli is a pleasant soprano, with a voice apparently not over fresh, a good method, and considerable execution. The Don Pedro of Signor Jamet, like all the efforts of this fine artist, was workmanlike, thorough, and even throughout; and the other characters call for no mention. A great deal of work has been done with chorus and orchestra, and both, as tested by current standards, although now and then deplorably uneven, are good—uncommonly so. The score of "L'Africaine" has never been so delicately or reverently handled here in so many instances before, and if this is not saying as much as we could wish, it yet denotes a progress worthy of encouragement and congratulation. Of the fittings of the stage, too, we can speak with praise, although not, indeed, more warmly than of other details. The improvements in front of the house are reasonably approached behind the footlights, and the whole effect last night was in advance of what, in all these regards, and in so laborious a production, we have so long endured. We consider that Messrs. Maretzek and Jarrett have begun their season in creditable fashion, and that the public have shown commensurate readiness to own and reward the managerial enterprise. On Wednesday, "Faust" is to be sung, with Mme. Lucca as Margharita.

THE RUBINSTEIN TROUPE IN BROOKLYN.

It is no exaggeration to say that the reception of M. RUBINSTEIN and his associate artists in Brooklyn, last evening, was a more cordial one than the difficult audiences of our sister city have ever before accorded to new-comers. For that matter, they have never before accorded such a one to the oldest and most cherished favorites. The capacity of the Academy of Music was taxed to the utmost, and while the body of the house and both galleries were entirely filled, large numbers stood patiently to the end. The audience was larger than has ever assembled for any musical entertainment except the Philharmonic concerts, and these latter in Brooklyn are especially a matter of fashion, and frequently command crowds quite independent of their musical attractiveness.

The vast audience—it was really nothing less—was appreciative and intent throughout, and the severely classic selections of Rubinstein and Wieniawski were received with applause nearly as discriminating as it was enthusiastic. Both of these artists firmly declined encores, but were called out for the third time, after each of their principal pieces, before the assembly consented to release them. We have already spoken with sufficient emphasis of the character of these artists' work. It only remains to say that they appeared to fully appreciate the warmth and genuineness of the feeling with which they were received, and performed their very liberal parts with great spirit. The vocalists were received kindly. The troupe gives a second and last concert at the Brooklyn Academy on the evening of Friday, the 8th; and it is a safe prediction that it will be even more numerously attended than the first. To-night, a Rubinstein concert takes place at Steinway Hall.

CONCERT AT SOUTH ORANGE.

A grand concert for the benefit of the Church of the Holy Communion at South Orange, N. J., will be given at High School Hall, in that place, this evening. The intention of the ladies and gentlemen who have planned the concert commends itself, without an elaborate reference as to its worthiness. The attractiveness of the affair is indicated by the announcement that Mr. S. B. Mills, Miss Graziella Ridgway and Mr. Leoni are the artists concerned in it.

Theatrical.

WOOD'S MUSEUM.

"Escaped from Sing Sing" was revived at this establishment last evening, with Mr. Dominick Murray in the leading part. We have before referred to this play, which was written for Mr. Murray, and gives him abundant opportunities of displaying his versatility, as he appears in no less than four different characters. In the first act he assumes the part of a fashionable physician, and after having introduced his sister into the house as a companion to the lady he is attending, poisons his patient, and escapes with some valuable papers. Then assuming various disguises, he at last comes fresh as a returned Californian, one Bristol Bill, and finally gets lodged in Sing Sing. Escaping by a most ingenious device, said to have been actually used by a convict some years ago, he appears once more as a man about town, and at last ends his career as vicious men usually do—at least on the stage. Last evening Mr. Murray was well supported, and the piece was received with favor. It is announced for repetition during the week and at the Saturday matinées.

ANOTHER SQUARE DENIAL.

The Credit Mobilier Slander—Letter from Judge Kelley.

Judge Kelley, of Pennsylvania, has written the following letter refuting in the most positive and explicit manner the charge that he was a stockholder in the Credit Mobilier. Mr. Kelley's statements are circumstantial, clear and forcible:

LARAMIE, W. T., Sept. 23, 1872.

MY DEAR PRICE: Your thorough familiarity with my affairs indicates you as the proper person through whom to offer to the public my reply to the allegation, to which such extended publicity has been given, that I have received a retainer or bribe from the Credit Mobilier of America, or the Union Pacific Railroad Company.

Permit me, therefore, to say that on the 9th inst. I saw in the hands of a passenger, in the car in which I was returning from Cheyenne, an article credited to the New-York Sun in the Chicago Tribune of the 7th, which embodied a statement that certain members of Congress, of whom I was one, had received each 2,000 or 3,000 shares of stock in the Credit Mobilier of America, together with the right to all dividends that had been paid, or which might thereafter be paid, on said shares, less the par value thereof. The list of the names of the parties implicated was said to have been carefully copied from an original which Henry S. McComb, of Wilmington, Del., in whose handwriting it was, had presented to a commissioner, and made part of his testimony of record in a suit pending in the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania. Further extracts from Mr. McComb's testimony were also adduced, in which he swore that he had been offered $600 for such shares, but had refused to sell, because they were each worth $1,000; and that the dividends that had already been paid on these shares, and to which the recipients were entitled, amounted to six or seven times their par value.

The story that I had thus become possessed of productive property worth several millions of dollars was so preposterous that I did not deem it worthy of notice, and let it pass, as I have so many other slanders from which time and events have vindicated me. But my attention has just been called to the report of an interview between Mr. McComb and a reporter of the Chicago Tribune, in which this absurd allegation is abandoned by Mr. McComb, and his sworn testimony is so far modified by him as to justify me in noticing his allegations. According to this statement, he has discovered that what has been published as a transcript of his testimony, especially that which is of record in his own handwriting, has been tampered with and garbled, or that his evidence needs revision and pruning. You will perceive by the following extract from the report of this interview that his recent averment is that the stock and bonds said to have been given to me were worth but somewhere from $12,000 to $25,000, and not millions, as the Chicago Tribune, quoting the New-York Sun, assured me he had sworn:

"Col. McComb, what does this line mean in the memoranda as published: 'Painter, (Rep.,) for Quigley, 3,000?' I know who Painter is, and suppose the 'Rep.' means reporter. Who is Quigley?"

Col. McCOMB—Quigley is a townsman of mine in Wilmington, Del. That has been erroneously copied from my memoranda in the Sun. The reporter who took it down for that paper must have been nervous, and he has made several mistakes. The names of Painter and Quigley belong to another memorandum. They are interested with me in the canal property between Washington and Alexandria—a piece of property owned and controlled by myself, Ames, Quigley, and some others. The figures 3,000 at the end of each name do not signify shares in the Credit Mobilier, but dollars' worth of stock. If you look at the published memoranda you will see that no word occurs after these figures. It is true that 3,000, at the rate of profit obtained by the stockholders, would come to about $18,000. Therefore, the $25,000 worth of stock which Oakes Ames says he held as trustee for the Congressmen named would be worth many times its face. I held my suit for this stock in the Credit Mobilier to be far above $300,000. That represents, as near as may be, the whole of the divided sum, providing Ames paid it to them, set down in that memorandum to the Congressmen implicated.

If Mr. McComb will take the trouble to look at "the published memoranda," as it was copied from the New-York Sun, on the fourth page of the Chicago Tribune of Sept. 7, 1872, he will find that the column of figures is headed by the word "shares," and that the accompanying editorial is based upon his assurance that the "Congressmen implicated" had received the number of "shares" set opposite the name of each.

The revised version of his story is less preposterous than the first published, but is, so far as it relates to me, no less false; and it is not impossible that, if interrogated on the point, he might certify that that part of what is published as an accurate transcript of his sworn testimony, as it has long stood of record in his own handwriting, which relates to me, had, like that which refers to Mr. Quigley, been interpolated by a "reporter who must have been nervous."

But let who may be responsible for the story, it is false. I have never owned a share of stock in the Credit Mobilier of America, nor has any member of my family, either directly or by the intervention of a trustee or agent; nor do I nor have I ever owned a share of stock of the Union Pacific Railroad Company, nor is there any held by anybody to my use or that of any member of my family, or of my heirs and assigns; nor, again, have I or they ever owned a Pacific Railroad bond, except one $1,000 income bond, which was purchased for me in open market some months since by Henry C. Townsend, Esq., my counsel, at my request, with funds he had collected for me. I had hoped to retain this ten per cent. investment long enough to enable me to collect at least one year's interest on it, but was some time since constrained to request Mr. Townsend to sell it, which would not have been necessary had there been any truth in that portion of Mr. McComb's testimony which refers to me.

Trusting, my dear friend, that you will give this such publicity as it may in your judgment deserve, I remain yours, very truly.

WM. D. KELLEY.

THOS. W. PRICE, Esq.

The Seigfried Murder—Evidence for the Defense.

Frederick Heggi's trial for murder in the first degree was resumed yesterday in the Court of General Sessions, before Recorder Hackett. Dr. Marsh testified to having first seen the body of Seigfried at the Morgue, and subsequently at the grave, when the body was exhumed; the coffin and body were then in a good state of preservation; the mucous membrane of the stomach and intestines were inflamed; in his opinion, it was impossible for an old man of dissipated habits to take six grains of arsenic and live; it would be impossible to take arsenic in a medical way to such an extent as to leave six grains in the stomach.

Dr. Frederick Fouchaus, for the defense, testified to giving Seigfried medicine in July, 1869. He complained of pains in the back, stomach and legs. He indignantly denied ever having administered arsenic to the deceased.

Dr. Guido Funer also testified for the defense. The statement of Dr. Endemann he considered as exaggerated when he referred to the powers of chemists to determine the quantity of arsenic found in a body. In his mind the finding of six grains of arsenic in a body after death is no criterion that the person has been poisoned.

Jacob Holli, a coach-driver, was next examined, but added nothing of importance to the foregoing testimony.

The case has not concluded.

A Greeley Elector Withdraws from that Crowd.

The following sound and patriotic letter, addressed to the Chairman of the Missouri Greeleyite Committee, we find in the St. Louis Globe of Saturday last:

BOONVILLE, Mo., Sept. 25.

To the Chairman Liberal Republican State Executive Committee, St. Louis, Mo.:

SIR: I address you after careful and conscientious consideration, to request that my name be withdrawn as an elector on the State Democratic ticket. As a Republican, sincerely anxious to urge on my party to a great reform in the civil service, I joined in the movement to call together at Cincinnati a mass-convention, to give effect to the aspiration of reformers throughout the county. Not without reluctance I followed it in its decision to nominate a national ticket, but came home with great misgivings, after the result. Nevertheless, I continued to follow the movement in its local application, but with a constantly decreasing faith, until I feel it a simple duty to make the above request. I have become firmly convinced by the observation of local, State and national politics that the Democratic Party, instead of forsaking its colors inscribed with the dangerous doctrines of its past, to rally under the flag of Liberal Republicanism, handles our colors but to creep the nearer to its enemy's citadel to trample them out of sight in the grand assault. You are yourself conversant with the facts that make up my conviction, as to State politics, at least. I believe the cause of reform will receive a deadly blow in Democratic success. With Republican success, it can at the worst but remain in statu quo ante bellum; though I confidently hope and believe that the present movement will urge on the old party to real effort for pure government. I am, Sir, very respectfully, yours, &c.,

F. W. LUDWIG,
Alternate Elector Seventh District, Missouri, and Secretary Cooper County Liberal Republican Executive Committee.

A Sample of How Inspectors are Appointed.

To the Editor of the New-York Times:

The work of the Board of Police in appointing inspectors of election for the Seventeenth Assembly District is worthy of careful analysis. There are thirty election districts, calling for 120 inspectors, of which (if the law is not violated or evaded) sixty would be of the party supporting Kernan and Greeley, and sixty of the party supporting Dix and Grant. The TIMES of Saturday published the list of names for inspectors for that Assembly District, (sixty in number,) presented by the Republican Committee of the Assembly District to Mr. Manierre. From the sixty names but nineteen were appointed, nine of whom (as was proper) were located near or in the election districts where they reside and are acquainted and can, therefore, be useful, while ten of the nineteen are placed in districts remote from their residences, where they have no knowledge of the population and so far from home that they cannot discharge the duties of the office without losing their votes. It is fair to assume that the balance of the sixty men whom Mr. Manierre has chosen are Greeley men. As to the other sixty, (appointed, or to be appointed by the Board of Police, independent of the nomination by Mr. Manierre,) if the Board does its duty they will represent the party supporting Kiernan and Greeley. The result, therefore, of this "little game" of Mr. Manierre, which the Board of Police will perhaps permit to be accomplished, will be probably about as follows:

Grant and Dix inspectors located at home	9
Grant and Dix inspectors located away from home	10—19
Greeley inspectors solely named by Manierre	41
Greeley and Kiernan inspectors appointed by the Board	60
Total	120

If the members of the Board of Police suppose that this kind of performance will receive the approbation of honest men of any party they are greater fools than the public take them to be.

REFORMER.

NEW-YORK, Saturday, Sept. 28, 1872.

Fire in Williamsburg—Loss About $30,000.

Shortly after 10 o'clock last night a fire broke out in Caspar Illig's lager-beer brewery, corner of Scholes and Lorimer streets, Williamsburg, caused by the heating of the shafting in the malt-mills. The damage to the building, stock and machinery was approximately estimated at $25,000. Insured in the Citizens' Insurance Company for $65,000. The fire extended to a two-story frame-house at the rear of No. 57 Meserole-street, owned by Leopold Kempp, and occupied by Halleth Green and Edward Bert. Loss on the building, $5,000; insured in the Citizens' Company for the full amount. Damage to the furniture, $250; no insurance. The school-house on Meserole-street, a three-story frame, owned by the Turners' Society, was also damaged to the amount of $1,500; fully insured in the Germania and Citizens' Insurance Companies.

REMINISCENCES OF AN OLD MAN,
After A. B. DURAND, N. A.
A MAGNIFICENT NEW CHROMO
BY
L. PRANG & CO.

Mr. Durand is the oldest of our American artists, and one of the most poetical withal. This latter quality is shown to a remarkable degree in the picture under consideration, which is one of his earlier productions. A grove of trees on the left, a stream gliding through it, a cow-pasture, a farm-house on the right, the village with its church-spire, and finally, a range of blue hills in the distance. These are the elements that make up the scene upon which the artist unfolds the whole drama of life. Children are playing on the meadows, the boys with ball and bat, the girls swinging in the trees, lovers are wooing in the shady grove, the farmers are busy reaping and garnering their harvest, and under the shadows of a mighty oak sits an old man with silvery locks, contemplating the spectacle before him, which is well fitted, indeed, to call up the reminiscences of a lifetime.

Size, 32½x21¾, (the largest so far published by us.)

REAL ESTATE TRANSACTIONS.

At the Exchange yesterday, Monday, Sept. 30, James M. Miller, by order of the Supreme Court in foreclosure, under the direction of J. V. W. Doty, Esq., referee, sold a plot of land embracing two lots on the south-east corner of One Hundred and Fourth-street and Madison-avenue, for $11,300. The corner lot was sold first and bought by Patrick Fox for $6,100. It has a front on One Hundred and Fourth-street of 20 feet by a depth of 100.11 feet, but the front on Madison-avenue is but 66.10 feet, as a small angle, 3 by 34, belongs to the property adjoining on the south, thus making the lot somewhat irregular, and to a certain extent detracting from its value. The second lot, fronting on One Hundred and Fourth-street, 20 feet east of Madison-avenue, 25 by 100.11, adjoining above, was bought by Geo. H. Peck for $5,200. Considerable interest was evinced in this transaction, and a large number of investors were present. The same property was sold some two months since and purchased by William H. Raynor for $20,800, but owing to some misunderstanding regarding the title a resale was deemed necessary. The trouble, we believe, relates to the proposed line of Fourth-avenue when opened, and its bearing upon these lots. Mr. Raynor was present yesterday at the sale, and it was intimated that in addition to the purchase of the property the buyer would also take title to a lawsuit. A feeling of uncertainty was therefore engendered, and, although an advance is shown over the price realized at the former auction, better figures would probably have ruled had no disputed question been at issue. No other business was transacted. In relation to the suburban sales of yesterday, namely, at Woodside, Long Island, by Jere. Johnson, Jr., and at West-New Brighton, by V. K. Stevenson & Son, reports will be made to-morrow.

For today, at the Exchange, under various legal orders and otherwise, an extensive list of City real estate will be offered at auction, full particulars concerning which were given yesterday. Many of the proposed sales are of importance, and the property such as should attract attention. Today, also, at Wyoming, N. J., A. D. Mellick, Jr., & Bro. will dispose of a large number of desirable building lots, the sale taking place on the property at 12 o'clock. Special train for this auction from foot of Christopher and Barclay streets, via ferry, at 10¾ o'clock.

FINANCIAL.

TWENTY PER CENT. INVESTMENT.

THE AMERICAN BRIDGE CO.,
OF CHICAGO, ILL.
L. B. BOOMER, of Chicago, President.
(ORGANIZED AUG. 1, 1870.)

AUTHORIZED CAPITAL STOCK, $1,000,000.

The Subscription Books will Positively Close Oct. 1, 1872.

The whole amount of the authorized Capital Stock of this Company not having been issued, the balance will be issued to subscribers at par, payment for same to be made in four installments of 25 per cent. each, viz.:

Twenty-five per cent. July 15, 25 per cent. Aug. 1, 25 per cent. Sept. 1, and 25 per cent. Oct. 1, 1872. Past due installments to be paid with interest at the time of subscription.

Books now open at the office of the undersigned will be positively closed at 3 P. M., Oct. 1, 1872.

The total amount of full-paid stock issued at this time is $414,700, and on this basis the Company shows a present surplus of $136,280 97, and is now doing a flourishing business. Over 1,000 men are almost constantly employed in their extensive works, and they now have on hand $2,500,000 of work for various railroads in the United States, (among which may be mentioned the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific, Lake Shore and Michigan Southern, Chicago and North-western, Missouri, Kansas and Texas, Michigan Central, Missouri Pacific, &c., &c.,) and the net profit on this work alone will be over $400,000. The Company is now offered work to the amount of more than $6,000,000, including some of the largest bridges ever built in this country; to accept of which and further business necessitates a larger working capital, as immense amounts of material have to be kept constantly on hand, and the Company are frequently obliged to receive in part payment for their work railroad and other bonds, which are perfectly good securities, but not always immediately marketable.

The THIRTY ACRES of land in Chicago belonging to the Company, and on which their extensive machine and other shops are situated, is now worth nearly $300,000, and prominent real estate dealers say it will be worth, in six years, at least $1,000,000—an amount equal to the whole proposed capital.

The career of the AMERICAN BRIDGE COMPANY, though brief, has already fully demonstrated the profitableness of the enterprise. The Company has constructed since its organization, and up to the 31st of December, 1871, a total of 33,187 feet of bridges, 18 turning-tables and 16 iron roofs, and pneumatic and screw pile substructures, costing $3,400,000, and have facilities for the construction of pneumatic piles unsurpassed by any Company in the country, and a capacity for the construction of at least 150 feet of bridges for every working day in the year.

The iron railroad and highway bridge at Leavenworth, of three spans of 340 feet each, and the Union Pacific Bridge across the Missouri River, of eleven spans of 250 feet each, were constructed by this Company.

The net profit arising from this business, as shown by the books of the Company, up to the 31st of March, 1872, was the sum of $373,482 14, or at the rate of $224,089 28 per annum, being over 50 per cent. upon the capital stock then outstanding. With the proposed new structures, machinery, &c., the Company will have much greater capacity, and the proceeds of the increased issue of stock will enable them to buy material for cash, thereby making a saving of from $50,000 to $75,000 per year.

The Company can undoubtedly, on above basis, make dividends of from 20 to 25 per cent. per annum on the full amount of capital, $1,000,000, with a fair prospect of a considerable increase.

The undersigned are prepared to give to those inquiring the fullest details and entire satisfaction regarding the reliability of the Company's statements, and the unquestioned integrity and ability of its officers.

We confidently commend to capitalists the above as an investment worthy their attention.

FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS

At 90 and Accrued Interest.

Issue $20,000 to the mile, in denominations of $100, $500, $1,000 and $5,000. This enterprise is undertaken with subscriptions to the Capital Stock of over $2,000,000. Sixteen miles of the Road are finished and in operation, 44 miles in addition fully graded, and a total length of 55 miles of track will be laid this season, while the whole Road, of about 150 miles, with the exception of 5 miles of easy work, is entered upon and contracted to be finished by responsible and wealthy parties within the ensuing year.

The Road will extend from the City of Oswego to Lewiston, on the Niagara River, with branches to Suspension Bridge and Buffalo, connecting at its Western terminus with the Great Western, the Canada Southern, and the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern Railroads, and at Oswego with the New-York Midland, and by way of the Midland with the proposed Boston, Rome and Oswego Railroad, which, when built, will thus provide a route from Chicago to Boston, 70 miles shorter than by any existing or contemplated line; connecting also at Oswego with the Rome, Watertown and Ogdensburg Railroad, and thence by the Vermont Central it completes connection with the entire railroad system of Northern New-England; while connections at Oswego with the Syracuse and Oswego Railroad, secures access to the coal fields of Pennsylvania.

With these connections a large through business is assured. Running through populous towns and villages, and a rich agricultural district, its local business alone will doubtless take care of the interest on the First Mortgage Bonds. SUPREME COURT.—IN THE MATTER of the application of the Mayor, Aldermen and Commonalty of the City of New-York, relative to the opening of One Hundred and Thirty-sixth-street, from Eighth-avenue to the Harlem River, in the City of New-York.

We, the undersigned Commissioners of Estimate and Assessment in the above-entitled matter, hereby give notice to the owner or owners, occupant or occupants, of all houses and lots and improved or unimproved lands affected thereby, and to all others whom it may concern, to wit:

That we have completed our estimate and assessment, and that all persons interested in these proceedings, or in any of the lands affected thereby, and who may be opposed to the same, do present their objections in writing, duly verified, to E. B. Hart, Esq., our Chairman, at the office of the Commissioners, No. 32 Nassau-street, Room No. 24, in the said City, on or before the 8th day of October, 1872, and that we, the said Commissioners, will hear parties so objecting within the ten week days next after the said 8th day of October, and for that purpose will be in attendance at our said office on each of said ten days, at 12 o'clock M.

That the abstract of the said estimate and assessment, together with our maps, and also all the affidavits, estimates and other documents which were used by us in making our report, have been deposited in the office of the Department of Public Works in the City of New-York, there to remain until the 21st day of October, 1872.

That the limits embraced by the assessment aforesaid are as follows, to wit: All those lots, pieces or parcels of land, situate, lying and being on both sides of One Hundred and Thirty-sixth-street, between Eighth-avenue and the Harlem River, and extending on either side of One Hundred and Thirty-sixth-street, half the distance to the next street thereto, in said City of New-York.

That our report herein will be presented to the Supreme Court of the State of New-York, at a special term thereof, to be held in the new Court-house at the City Hall, in the City of New-York, on the 12th day of November, 1872, at the opening of the Court on that day, and that then and there, or as soon thereafter as counsel can be heard thereon, a motion will be made that the said report be confirmed.

PROPOSALS.

PROPOSALS FOR DIMENSION STONE REQUIRED IN THE CONSTRUCTION OF THE NEW GOVERNMENT BUILDING AT ST. LOUIS, MO.

OFFICE OF SUPERVISING ARCHITECT,
TREASURY DEPARTMENT,
WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 21, 1872.

Sealed proposals will be received at this office until 12 o'clock M. of the 26th day of October, 1872, for furnishing and delivering at the site of the proposed Government building at St. Louis, Mo., all of the dimension required for the exterior of the building.

The species of stone from which a selection will be made will be confined to granite, marble and sandstones, and the qualities especially insisted upon will be uniformity of color and texture, durability, and the capacity for working under the chisel or hammer.

A sample block, 12x12x12 inches, showing on each face a different kind of cutting, and on one the natural fracture of the stone must be submitted with each bid.

No stone that has not been tested by actual use as cut stone in buildings for at least ten years will be considered, and absolute proof that it has been so used for that period must be furnished.

The stone must further have a good grain and be free from all discoloring substances, and the quarry from which it is procured must be fully opened and capable of furnishing the quality and quantity desired within one year.

About 400,000 cubic feet, more or less, will be required, the actual average of the stones cannot now be given, but will approximate forty feet, the largest stone containing about 200 cubic feet.

The stone will be ordered on a schedule of net sizes, in order that the contractor may make proper allowances for cutting in the quarrying, and on this schedule payment will be made allowing an addition of one inch to each face on granite and marble stock and of one-half inch to each cut face of sandstone.

Bidders will state how soon they can commence delivering the stone and the amount per week they can deliver; the stone and the amount per week they can deliver. They will also state the average and maximum size of the stones that can be obtained from their quarry.

No bids will be received except from the owners or lessees of the quarries from which the stone is proposed to be furnished, and a certificate from the Recorder of the County in which the quarry is situated that the bidder is the owner or lessee of the quarry must accompany the bid.

All proposals must be made on and in full accordance with the printed forms to be obtained on application at this office or from the Superintendent, Mr. Thomas Walsh, St. Louis, Mo., and must be accompanied by a penal bond in the sum of fifty thousand dollars, ($50,000) that the bidder will accept and perform the contract if awarded to him, and give bond therefor in the penal sum of one hundred thousand dollars, ($100,000) and a valid and binding lease of the quarry to the Government as security for the faithful performance of the contract, the lease to take effect upon the failure of the contractor to comply with the terms of the contract, said lease to authorize the Government to take full possession of the quarry and work it at the expense of the contractor in case of default.

The Department reserves the right to reject any or all bids, or to divide the contract and use two or more kinds of stone.

Proposals must be inclosed in a sealed envelope, indorsed, "Proposals for dimension stone for the new Government building, St. Louis, Mo.," and addressed to A. B. MULLETT, Supervising Architect.

OFFICE OF LIGHT-HOUSE ENGINEER, THIRD DISTRICT, TOMPKINSVILLE, N. Y., Aug. 31, 1872.

TO QUARRYMEN.

Sealed proposals will be received at this office until noon of Oct. 3, 1872, for 3,000 tons, more or less, of granite for the foundation for Hart Island Light-house, Long Island Sound.

The Light-house is to be founded in six feet water at low water. The exact location will be designated by the agent of the Light-house Board.

The site is sheltered by the Island, and exposed to easterly storms only. A safe harbor can be found to the westward of the Island, and about half a mile distant. The foundation is to be formed of irregular blocks of granite, varying in weight from three-quarters of a ton to five tons each, averaging not less than two tons and placed in rip-rap of the form of a frustum of a cone of one hundred and eight feet diameter at base, ninety feet diameter at the top, low water mark, and six feet high, all to the satisfaction of the undersigned.

The work is to be commenced as soon as contract for the same is signed and is to be completed by the 1st of February, 1873. The contractor to forfeit $10 per day, for each and every day's delay thereafter to complete the same.

Bidders will be required to furnish satisfactory evidence that they are quarrymen, or that they actually own, or have control of quarries.

Proposals must be in duplicate, accompanied by a guarantee in duplicate, and a printed copy of this advertisement attached to each proposal.

Proposals will be addressed to the undersigned, indorsed on the envelope: "Proposals for foundation for Hart Island Light-house."
J. C. WOODRUFF, Colonel of Engineers,
Light-house Engineer, Third District.

PROPOSALS FOR HEAD-STONES FOR NATIONAL MILITARY CEMETERIES.

WAR DEPARTMENT,
QUARTERMASTER-GENERAL'S OFFICE,
WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 1, 1872.

Proposals are invited for marking the graves in the National Cemeteries, as required by law, to be addressed to the Quartermaster-General, Washington, D. C.

Proposals should state the price for each head-stone, properly inscribed and set at the head of the grave in each National Military Cemetery.

Bids may be for the whole work of all the cemeteries, or for that of several cemeteries in a district, or for a single cemetery.

The bonds required will be, in amount, twenty (20) per cent. of the whole amount of each contract.

All proposals received by the Quartermaster-General will be opened on the 12th day of October, 1872, at noon, at the office of the Quartermaster-General, Washington, D. C., in presence of bidders, and contracts will be awarded to the lowest responsible bidders as soon as a comparison of the samples and prices can be completed, provided the samples are deemed suitable by the Secretary of War.

All samples should be distinctly marked in order to prevent mistakes.

Lists of the cemeteries, with the number of graves in each, together with full information as to conditions, requirements, &c., will be furnished on application in writing to the Quartermaster-General, Washington, D. C.

Envelopes containing proposals to be indorsed "Proposals for Head-stones for National Military Cemeteries," and addressed to the Quartermaster-General, Washington, D. C.

NEW-YORK CITY NEWS.

THE QUINN MURDER.

Arrest of Charles Schneider on Suspicion—His Version of the Affair—Examination of the Body by Coroner Jones.

Charles Schneider, the man who, at Mrs. McCall's request, put Patrick Quinn out of her house, No. 183 Navy-street, Brooklyn, on Sunday morning, has been arrested on suspicion of being concerned in Quinn's death. It is alleged that Schneider struck Quinn and knocked him down, and then ran in the direction of his house, in Bergen-street, near Smith. It is reported that when he arrived at his residence, he told his mother to say, if any one asked for him, that he was not at home. He further said he had knocked a man down, and did not know what might have been the result. Upon ascertaining these facts, Detective Corr went in search of Schneider, but while the officer was inquiring for him at the front door, Schneider made his escape by the back of the house, and came over to New-York. Detective Corr followed him, and yesterday morning arrested Schneider in Liberty street. Schneider said he was then about returning to Brooklyn to give himself up, as he found by the morning papers that he had been suspected; but the officer told him it would have been far better for him had he done so on Sunday, instead of waiting until he was arrested. Detective Corr took his prisoner to Brooklyn, where he was temporarily committed by Justice Reilly, of the Third District Court, to await the action of the Coroner.

Coroner Jones, on Sunday, visited the Morgue, and viewed the body. From the superficial examination made, he gave it as his opinion that Quinn must have met with a series of falls, as the lacerated wound on the back of the scalp is filled with dirt and sand. From this fact he does not think it possible that Quinn could have been beaten. The skull does not appear to have been fractured, consequently death is supposed to have resulted from compression of the brain. This will, however, be determined by the autopsy to be held today. The inquest is set down for to-morrow.

Schneider, after being committed, was locked up in cell No. 6 of the Jail, where the TIMES reporter called upon him, and received his version of the affair. He said he had been visiting a friend in Hudson-avenue, and was waiting near Mrs. McCall's store for a cross-town car, when Quinn entered the store, as already described. A few minutes later Mrs. McCall, with whom he was slightly acquainted, asked him to remove the man from the store, and he complied with her request. No sooner had Quinn reached the sidewalk than he showed fight, and struck him (Schneider) one blow, which the latter tried to ward off with his arm. The raising of the arm in this manner somewhat caused Quinn to lose his balance, and he fell backward, striking his head against the curb. At this moment two men came up, and accused Schneider of knocking the man down—one of the two even taking off his coat to fight. Seeing the odds were against him, Schneider ran from the scene in the direction of his home in South Brooklyn.

To the inquiry why he left Brooklyn for New-York, he replied that when he heard that Quinn was dead, and knew the officers were after him, he thought he would go away, as he did not wish to be locked up all day Sunday. He regretted that he had so acted, as he believed, had he surrendered himself, he would have been allowed to go on his parole when the facts of the case had been made known. He was not afraid, he said, of the investigation, but did fear remaining in a police cell all day Sunday.

Schneider is a rather good-looking young man, twenty-six years of age, and bears a fair reputation as a hard-working, steady person. He is employed in Lockwood's pork-cutting establishment, in South Brooklyn, where he appears to be well liked.

A TERRIBLE SCENE.

A Maniac Attempts to Murder his Family—He Dangerously Wounds his Wife and Daughter—Their Lives Saved by the Daring of a Policeman.

Two years ago Patrick Leary, a lithographer, forty-eight years old, and a man of good education, fell from the stoop of his then residence, and injured his skull. From that time up to about a month ago he acted strangely and evinced such signs of aberration of mind that his wife, Mrs. Sarah Leary, determined to send him to the Insane Asylum. Accordingly, she had him arrested, and Justice Shandley sent him to the Ward's Island Asylum. On the 25th ultimo Mrs. Leary went up to the Asylum and had an interview with her husband. He seemed perfectly rational, and, crying bitterly, besecched her in the most abject terms to procure his release from the institution. Mrs. Leary was very much affected, and spoke to the medical officers of the institution regarding the matter, and whether it would be advisable to have her husband discharged or not. It was finally decided to allow Leary what is termed a month's leave of absence, and a permit was granted.

This permit has to be renewed before its expiration or the patient will be then discharged from the institution.

Mrs. Leary, who is forty years old, then took her husband with her to her residence, No. 631 East Ninth-street, a large tenement-house. From his return home up to yesterday morning Leary has been very morose in disposition and drank freely. Yesterday morning Mrs. Leary got up at 5½ and dressed herself for the purpose of attending early mass. She was about leaving the rooms which she occupied when Leary suddenly rushed on her, caught her by her hair, and struck her two terrible blows on the head with a heavy meat-saw, causing a compound fracture of the skull, and producing temporary insensibility. On seeing this, Mary Leary, the daughter, a handsome and intelligent girl of seventeen years, screamed for help, whereon Leary grasped her and struck her down with two blows of the saw, inflicting terrible lacerated wounds of the scalp. She fell insensible beside her mother. Johnny Leary, a little boy, eleven years of age, was also in the room, and on him the maniac next turned. But by that time an alarm had been given, and Officer Patrick Ginley, of the Eleventh Precinct, rushed into the house. He was informed by a number of terror-stricken men and women gathered in the passage-way that Leary was murdering his family.

Seeing that no aid could be expected from any of the persons in the house Officer Ginley determined to take desperate chances, and putting his shoulder to the door of Leary's room burst it in. He was just in time, for Leary had his son, little Johnny, on his knees in the middle of the room and the saw raised to brain the child. Ginley struck Leary on the wrist with his club, throwing all his strength into the blow, and knocked the bloody saw out of the madman's hand. A desperate struggle followed, Ginley striving to secure his prisoner, the madman endeavoring to overpower the officer. At last Ginley brought Leary to the stairs by dint of main force and a sudden lurch of Leary caused both the men to fall down. Ginley was soon on his feet, and, the maniac being completely worn out, Ginley succeeded in lodging his prisoner in the Union Market Station, where he was locked up. Dr. David W. Toal was called in to attend Mrs. and Miss Leary, and gave a certificate to the effect that Sarah Leary was suffering from fracture of the skull, (compound,) and her daughter Mary from a severe scalp wound, from which, with care, she may recover. Leary, on being arraigned before Justice Shandley, at Essex Market, yesterday, was held to await the result of his wife and daughter's injuries.

Review of the Second Division N. G. S. N. Y. by Gov. Hoffman.

Yesterday, the thoroughfares centering about the City Hall and County Court-house, Brooklyn, were thronged by citizens, who had assembled to witness the review of the Second Division N. G. S. N. Y. by the Governor. There were at least 16,000 spectators present, and the houses were decorated with a profusion of flags. The reviewing-stand on the open lot east of the Court-house was occupied by the Mayor and members of the City Government, Boards of Aldermen and Supervisor, and invited guests. At 6 o'clock the Governor and his staff arrived. The troops passed in review in the following order: Separate troop of Cavalry; Second Division, Capt. Thos. McCarty; Battery A, Artillery, Capt. P. A. Steuber; Battery B, Artillery, Major Jno. Timmes; Fifth Brigade, Brig.-Gen. Thos. Dakin and staff; separate troop Cavalry, Fifth Brigade, Capt. L. Sandhusen; Thirteenth Regiment Infantry, Col. James Jourdan, (Brevet Major-General); Fourteenth Regiment Infantry, Col. Jos. Burgher; Fifteenth Battalion Infantry, Lieut.-Col. J. B. Mayenberg; Eleventh Brigade N. G. S. N. Y., Brig.-Gen. J. V. Meserole; separate troop cavalry, Capt. J. Kreuscher; Twenty-third Regiment Infantry, Col. Rodney C. Ward; Thirty-second Regiment Infantry, Col. H. E. Roehr; Forty-seventh Regiment Infantry, Col. D. E. Austen; Howitzer Battery, Eleventh Brigade, Capt. J. F. Simons.

Darkness came on before the review was more than half over, but the crowd remained until the last soldier had passed.

Something About the Gold Shield Business at Police Head-quarters.

At a meeting of the Board of Police, yesterday, an application was received for permission for Capt. Ira S. Garland, of the Twenty-eighth Precinct, to receive a gold shield as a present from a number of citizens residing in the precinct. The permission was granted, and immediately thereafter Capt. Garland was transferred from the Twenty-eighth to the Thirteenth Precinct, and Capt. Hedden from the Thirteenth to the Twenty-eighth Precinct. In a subsequent interview with Commissioners Bosworth and Manierre, those gentlemen informed a TIMES reporter that the transfer of Capt. Garland was made for the purpose of breaking up if possible the practice of Captains of Police receiving presents from citizens residing in their precincts, a practice which the Commissioners are of the opinion would be more honored in the breach than the observance, while they did not feel inclined to refuse their consent to the citizens who had applied to the Board for permission to present the shield to Capt. Garland, as the gift had been manufactured and was ready for presentation, yet they hoped by the prompt transfer of Capt. Garland from the precinct in which the donors reside or do business, to make manifest their utter disapproval of such proceedings. Hereafter it is expected that gold shields will be at a discount in the Police Department.

OVERDRAWN ACCOUNTS.

The Controller Notified by the Chamberlain Regarding County Appropriations—A Word to the Supervisors.

The City Chamberlain yesterday sent a communication to Controller Green, notifying him that the appropriations for several County purposes had been overdrawn, and it would be necessary for him to make the accounts good. The following is a list of the amounts overdrawn:

County Court-house	$700,352 87
Cleaning and Supplies	1,817 45

These overdrafts offset certain special accounts only, and do not apply to the City Treasury, in which there is a balance of $5,000,000 and over. They existed when Controller Green took office, only to a greater extent than now: he has reduced the overdrafts from time to time, and on one account—"Street Improvement Fund"—the decrease has been $1,500,000. This fund is based upon the receipts from assessments which go to its credit. It has suffered for reason that many parties have refused to pay their assessments, on the ground that technicalities, informalities, &c., existed in the proceedings to levy the assessments.

It would seem impolitic for the Controller to borrow money to swell the deposits in the Chamberlain's hands while such a balance is there already. The same remark applies to the issue of Court-house stock on County account.

The following communication was yesterday forwarded to the Board of Supervisors by the Controller:

CITY OF NEW-YORK, DEPARTMENT OF FINANCE,
CONTROLLER'S OFFICE, Sept. 24, 1872.

To the Honorable Board of Supervisors:

Your attention is respectfully called to the fact that the appropriation for cleaning and supplies to County offices and buildings ($44,120 43) is exhausted, and claims to the extent of $15,000 additional, authorized by your Board, are unprovided for.

When the appropriation was made it was considered more than sufficient for the entire year, but the monthly pay-rolls for cleaning the County public offices, which do not include those of the City Hall, and others of the City Departments, have increased materially over those of the year 1871, and are now at the rate of $75,000 per annum for personal services, to which amount the bills for necessary supplies must be added.

I have no doubt that the number of persons employed is excessive and that they could have been reduced so that the appropriation would have come within the proper amount, and the service sufficiently and properly performed.

The attention of your honorable body has been regularly, each week, called by a notice from this Department of the law on this subject forbidding expenditures in excess of appropriations.

Very respectfully,
AND. H. GREEN, Controller.

Amount of appropriation for the year		$44,120 43
Amount thus far expended	$44,120 43
Amount of claims unpaid	13,135 00
Amount required at same rate of expenditure for the remainder of the year	28,627 72
Excess of expenditure over the appropriation for the whole year		41,762 72
	$85,883 15	$85,883 15

THE HARLEM COURT-HOUSE.

Testimony of two Witnesses—The Estimated Cost of the Mason-Work, &c.

The Committee of the Senate, appointed to inquire into the alleged frauds in connection with the Ninth District Court-house, met yesterday in the library of the City Hall. There was a full attendance of the members. Justices Porter and McQuade were excused from attendance until Friday.

Joseph Spears was called and sworn. Mr. Genet objected to his examination in the absence of his counsel. He had no confidence in his statement, and wanted him subjected to a severe cross-examination. The objection was overruled and the witness testified that he was a practical mason, and a few weeks ago made an estimate of the value of the mason-work on the Harlem Court-house, which was $39,131 58; the statement of the value was in the handwriting of Mr. Tappan.

MR. GENET—Who is Mr. Tappan?

WITNESS—A man of good character.

MR. GENET—That is more than you are if you swear to that estimate.

WITNESS—I made a rough estimate of the work last year, but it was not as full as the last one. The amount I then stated was $45,000. I was never before the Grand Jury, and made no affidavit except the last one.

On cross-examination the witness said he made an estimate last Fall at the request of the Twelfth Ward Tax-payers' Association. Did not remember the exact time the estimate was made, but it was before the election. Made a second examination on being told by Mr. Adams that he should be compelled to make an affidavit as to the accuracy of the estimate. Visited the building five times, but made no measurements except on the occasions named.

Thomas Wilson, a carpenter of twenty years' experience, testified that he made an estimate of the carpenter-work on the new Harlem Court-house, and it amounted to $5,809, $455 of which was for blacksmith's work; saw no black-walnut there, but there was some lumber lying on the ground; made the report in evidence from memorandums made on the occasion. The witness was cross-examined, but nothing material was elicited.

Mr. Bishop asked to have Mr. Genet examined.

Mr. Waterbury objected until after the Commissioners were put upon the stand. He was ready to state all he knew at the proper time, but did not desire to give information for the civil suits now pending in the Courts.

It was ordered that Mr. Genet be subpœnaed next Wednesday, and the investigation then adjourned.

The Tenth National Bank and the Commissioners of Charities and Correction.

The following correspondence has taken place in reference to the sum of $128,000 deposited in the Tenth National Bank by the Commissioners of Charities and Corrections:

DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC CHARITIES AND CORRECTION, CORNER OF THIRD-AVENUE AND ELEVENTH-STREET, NEW-YORK, Sept. 27, 1872.

Hon. Andrew H. Green, Controller:

SIR: The sum of $128,039 06, on special deposit to the credit of this Department in the Tenth National Bank, was seized by the officers of that Bank as in part payment of an indebtedness due the bank for overdrafts in 1871, and for which provision was made by the Legislature at its late session.

The Commissioners respectfully request your good offices in obtaining a settlement with the bank, and the restoration of the money in question to the credit of this Department.

Very respectfully, your obedient servant,
ISAAC BELL, President.

DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC CHARITIES AND CORRECTION, CORNER OF THIRD-AVENUE AND ELEVENTH-STREET, NEW-YORK, Sept. 27, 1872.

SIR: On the 21st day of February this Department opened a special account with your bank on the distinct understanding and with expressed pledge of the officers of your bank that all moneys deposited to the credit of this Department should be held inviolate, and subject to the drafts of the Commissioners. On the 19th day of July the sum of $128,039 06, on deposit to the credit of that account, was seized by you for account of an indebtedness of 1871, for the payment of which the Legislature made provision at its late session.

The Commissioners respectfully request that the moneys so siezed may be paid to their order. Very respectfully,
ISAAC BELL, President.

WM. B. PALMER, Esq., President Tenth National Bank.

CITY OF NEW-YORK, DEPARTMENT OF FINANCE,
CONTROLLER'S OFFICE, Sept. 28, 1872.

To the Department of Public Charities and Correction:

I yesterday received your favor of the 27th inst., inclosing a copy of your letter to the Tenth National Bank. The seizure, by that bank, of moneys paid by me to you, and by you deposited in that bank, was, it appears, a violation of an express agreement with you, and, as I think, an act that cannot be sustained by any legal authority. These moneys were raised to meet the expenditures of your Department for hospitals, asylums, &c., for the year 1872, and ought not to be and cannot be diverted from that object.

You will readily perceive that it would be improper for me to make provision for the overdraft of 1871, as authorized by the Legislature while the banks holds these moneys. It may be well enough to state that when I took the office of Controller the Tenth National Bank, which was the depository of several of the City Departments, and having among its directors several City officials, showed heavy overdrafts of the following accounts:

Department of Public Parks	$55,707 15
Department of Public Charities and Correction	277,930 05
County Court-house	242,579 94
Amounting in all	$576,217 14

The overdraft of the Park Department of which Mr. Hilton was then Treasurer was paid by me, and while in course of examination of the overdraft of your Department, and of that of the Commissioners of the new County Court-house, the bank obtained from the Court an order to show cause why a mandamus should not issue to compel their payments. My counsel is at present absent from the City, but I understand that the Court did not issue the mandamus, but ordered the matter of the overdraft of the Commissioners of the Court-house to a referee, who has not yet determined the case.

The appropriation for the support of the institution under your department is ample, and has been regularly paid over to you. It will give me great pleasure to take such action in the matter as I can to obviate any embarrassment in your operations that may arise from the seizure of your moneys.

The expressed determination of your Department to keep its expenditures within its appropriations for the year 1872, is one that will, I trust, be concurred in by other departments as respects their several expenditures. It is not only in accordance with the law, but as this Department deems, it is essential to the establishment of the Finance of the City upon a sound and satisfactory basis. Very respectfully,
AND. H. GREEN, Controller.

The Weston Cadets.

The Weston Cadets, eighty in number, under command of Col. Garnett, and accompanied by quite a number of guests, arrived here on an excursion yesterday. The flags were all run up on the roof of the City Hall, and every window was filled by an immense crowd to witness the arrival of the Cadets on the esplanade, escorted by Col. Scott and a battalion of the Eighth Regiment. Mayor Hall, the members of the Common Council and several military gentlemen witnessed the evolutions of the Cadets, which were very creditably executed.

WARD'S ISLAND LUNATICS.

The Treatment of Insane Emigrants—Testimony of the Warden, Matron, Doctor and Priest—A Conflict of Authority Existing.

The special Committee appointed by the Board of Emigration to investigate the management and condition of the Asylum for insane emigrants on Ward's Island met yesterday afternoon, at the office of the Superintendent of the island, and resumed their labors. Commissioners E. B. Hart, James Lynch, W. Wallach, George J. Forrest and Alexander Frear were present.

Warden Wells, who was called first, said that the boarding found before the window of one of the cells had been there for a year or more. It was put up when a very violent patient had been placed in it had broken the glass. Some of the patients required constant attention, and their cells had to be cleaned two or three times a day. Disinfectants were often used in the cells, which were kept as free from unpleasant odors as possible. It was utterly impossible, in his opinion, to keep the cells of certain patients always clean.

Catherine Scully was next examined and made the following statement: I have been employed here two years and nine months; at first as nurse, and from a year ago as matron; I was never previously employed in a lunatic asylum; it is an established rule to take the patients into the open air in Summer; they have breakfast at six, and at seven are let into the yard; there are no restrictions placed upon them, as they can go either into the building or stop in the yard, as they pleased when they get very violent, we put them into a cell until they get calm, and then they are let out again; if they say they will behave well, I then let them out; they are confined in the cell in such cases from one to four hours; have never used any unnecessary violence myself; once a patient would not take her shoes off, and kicked the helper, Mrs. Cavanagh, who slapped her in the face and left a mark; that is the only instance I know of myself where violence was used; the nurses have slapped the patients sometimes, but that was where no mark was left; the doctor's orders are to treat the patients kindly; eighty-three are under my charge; I have seven assistants; we are not particularly on duty at night, except in case of a patient being very sick; the help sleeps in the ward, and my own room door is open, so that any noise would be soon heard; three or four times a week the assistance of a nurse at night is required; one morning, while I was at chapel, a woman was pushed down-stairs by Mrs. Cavanagh, and bruised on the head; a couple of months ago I called the doctor's attention to the bread, which was not good; it was then changed, and has been better ever since; the patients have coffee and bread and butter for breakfast; dinner is served at twelve o'clock; they have meat, rice and potatoes every day, except Friday; it is good, and in sufficient quantity; I always see that they are properly fed; they have tea and bread and butter in the evening, and generally are all in bed by eight o'clock; there is always some one of the attendants with the patients; if one is confined to the strong-room, I don't report the fact to the doctor; never had instructions to report such cases; we sometimes use the strait-jacket, which is done without instructions from the doctor; when the doctor comes he generally remains in the hospital about a quarter of an hour; I make suggestions to him sometimes, and he prescribes medicine, sometimes without examining the patient, although he might see her; (the prescription-book produced had no date and few names in it;) Mr. Wells, the Warden, or his deputy, visits the building at least once a day, and if anything is needed, it is supplied by his order.

Dr. Reidel, explaining the entries in the prescription-book, said: The patients in the insane ward are so few that it is impossible to make a mistake; eighty-six patients were once transferred to another department, but I gave no history of their cases with the transfer; I had none, and could not give any under the present system; Father Prachensky's authority in the Asylum is supreme; he once performed a wedding in the ward when the bride was a patient about to be discharged as cured; the husband slept in the building that night; I don't know how Father Prachensky gained access to the Asylum; it might have been dangerous—there might have been a lapse in the condition of the patient; the man who married her was a farmer; they were engaged to be married; how the man gained access to the building I don't know; I had given instructions that no visitor was to be admitted without an order signed by me; I give that instance to show the conflict of authority in the management of the Lunatic Asylum; I gave Mrs. Scully particular instructions as to the restraining of violent patients.

Father Prachensky stated: I am the Catholic chaplain on the island; never gave any instructions to the orderlies different from those they have received from the doctor; I have no doubt the woman who was married was sane; as a Catholic priest I could not marry an insane woman to a sane man; I have been accused before of doing things which I have not done; I never encroached on the doctor's jurisdiction, and have always tried to please him, but every time he sees me he seems to be seized with a religio-phobia of some sort.

Anne Cavanagh was next examined: She had been employed in the insane women's ward for six months; when the woman fell down stairs, she was pushing a number of women out of the room during a childbirth; did not touch the woman who fell; she was cut on the forehead; never saw any one ill-used. The witness confirmed in other respects the testimony of Mrs. Scully.

Pierce Butler, an orderly in the insane ward, said that he had been employed in the ward since May last; he had not said that Father Prachensky prevented him from cleaning the water-closets; to restrain violent patients leathern handcuffs and straps were used; never saw any violent treatment; the doctor, when patients had been dangerously ill, had two or three times visited the Asylum at night; whenever he was sent for, he came; as to the fare no complaints were made; once, however, the bread for two days was sour.

The Committee at this point adjourned the investigation until Saturday at 1 P. M.

The Brooklyn Election Frauds—Application for the Arrest of Dunne and Keenan.

Yesterday morning District-Attorney Winchester Britton made application before Judge Nelson, in the Brooklyn City Court, for an order of arrest against Alderman James Dunne and Patrick Keenan, the Mayor's Messenger, for having "on the 6th day of November, 1871, willfully, wrongfully and corruptedly put, or caused to be put, a large number of ballots of the kind to be voted at the election to be held in the Eighth Election District of the Sixth Ward of the City of Brooklyn, on the 7th day of November, 1871, containing the names of the persons to be elected at said election, in the boxes used at said election, such ballots not having been voted by any person, but were wholly false, fraudulent and fictitious."

Mr. John McKenna, in whose store at No. 55 Atlantic-street the polls were held, and who was said to have made an affidavit specifically charging Dunne, Keenan and others with having stuffed the ballot-boxes, published a note yesterday denying that he ever made any such affidavit, or any other affidavit relating to the subject, and declaring that the whole statement with reference to it is entirely false. Welden, in whose behalf the affidavit was said to have been made, on hearing of McKenna's denial, became very much excited, and said that two affidavits were made, one in the presence of Gens. Tracy and Catlin. Said he: "McKenna told me that he cried for two days when he learned that I had been sent to prison. His excuse for delaying his statement was that he was afraid of personal violence. He can't get out of this case. There are too many witnesses to prove that he made those affidavits published."

Boston, Hartford and Erie.

Rumors prevail extensively of an approaching contest between Commodore Vanderbilt and Erie as to which shall obtain control of the Boston, Hartford and Erie Railroad. The Erie Corporation needs it as a connecting link to Boston, and it is said Vanderbilt is determined to obtain control of the road and defeat the scheme. A TIMES reporter called upon Mr. S. L. M. Barlow counsel for the Erie Road, yesterday, who gave the following version of the matter. He said that the Erie Company now holds over one million of dollars' worth of Boston, Hartford and Erie bonds and Commodore Vanderbilt $1,500,000 worth of the same securities; that Erie is interested in obtaining control of the Boston, Hartford and Erie Railroad, but that it is not willing to purchase any more of the bonds to effect its object. He claims that a large quantity of the bonds is in the hands of friends of Erie, and can be used should they be needed. When asked into whose hands the $300,000 worth of bonds which were sold last week, passed, Mr. Barlow replied that he did not know, but that they were not bought by the Erie Company. He also said that Erie would finish the connecting links of Boston, Hartford and Erie if the road came into its hands next year, and would use it for through traffic to the West.

The Cotton Exchange Secretaryship—A Change Today.

Mr. B. F. Voorhees, who has been Secretary of the Cotton Exchange since the formal organization of that institution, has been compelled, by ill health and other private reasons, to resign. The Board of Management, in reluctantly acquiescing in the resignation, adopted a series of resolutions very complimentary to the retiring officer, signed by Mr. H. Hentz, as Chairman of the Executive Committee. Mr. Voorhees will be succeeded today by Mr. E. R. Powers, late of the commercial department of the Journal of Commerce, who has been appointed to the Secretaryship. Mr. Powers has been connected with journalism in this City for many years, and though one of the younger men in his speciality of the profession, he has made for himself a very enviable reputation, and has endeared himself to a large circle of friends in and out of the profession. The Cotton Exchange is already familiar with his qualifications, he having been an early Assistant Secretary to the Exchange, having given his services thereto during temporary absences of Mr. Voorhees.

The Custom-House Robbery.

The Custom-house detectives, it is expected, have obtained a clue to the mysterious robbery of silks from the United States store in Greenwich-street, but the authorities as yet will not tell upon whom suspicion falls.

PUBLIC LIBRARY OF KENTUCKY.
THE GRAND GIFT CONCERT.
GIFT MONEY ALL UP.
$500,000 in Bank to Pay Prizes.
A Full Drawing in Sight.

The Grand Gift Concert, for the benefit of the Public Library of Kentucky, is postponed to Saturday, the 7th of December, for the following reasons:

1. The failure of certain agents to make returns in time for the drawing to take place Sept. 28.
2. The accumulation of orders during the last few days to such an extent that it was not possible to fill them and have the drawing on the 28th.
3. The generally-expressed desire of ticket-holders that a full drawing might be had, even if it made a short postponement necessary.
4. The belief of the management that by a short postponement the remnant of unsold tickets can be disposed of, and all the prizes paid in full without the necessity of any pro rata scaling down.

For these reasons, coupled with the earnest desire to benefit the Public Library by a larger balance and the ticket-holders by larger gifts, the concert and distribution have been postponed to Saturday, the 7th of December, 1872. ON THAT DAY AND NO OTHER THE DRAWING WILL POSITIVELY AND UNEQUIVOCALLY COME OFF in the great hall of the Public Library building, beginning at precisely 6 o'clock A. M., and continue until the whole of the one thousand gifts are awarded.

The payment of the gifts will begin the third day after the drawing, and continue for six months, in current funds, by the Farmers' and Drovers' Bank, or by sight draft upon the Fourth National Bank, New York, at the option of the gift ticket-holders.
